WORLD LEADERS JOIN IN HOPES FOR PEACE

...Services, Revelry Welcome '64

New York (AP) — And so, another year has arrived — borne on a tide of prayers for peace and an end to the tension and travail which plagued the globe during the twelve months gone by.

Many world leaders joined in the hopes for better times as 1964 was ushered in with both solemn church service and citizen revelry.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said there has been a definite relaxation of international tension.

Peace Superior

He termed this the distinguishing feature of this time — that the forces of peace are becoming superior to the forces of war.

Of late Khrushchev often has said nuclear war would result only in global destruction.

On the international scene, Khrushchev will be dealing with three new key world figures during the coming months.

Leaders

They are President Johnson, who acceded to the office upon the assassination of President John F. Kennedy; Britain's new prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, and West Germany's new chancellor, Ludwig Erhard.

Erhard has just completed a meeting with Johnson in Texas. In a New Year's telegram to the President he expressed hope that 1964 "will bring us closer to our mutual goals" and added:

"If we stand together and do our best for the unity of the Atlantic community, then we need not worry about peace and freedom."

Ease Tension

Norwegian Premier Enar Gerhardsen, addressing his people by radio, said President Johnson "wants lessening of tensions and disarmament under international control." The socialist premier continued:

"He also wants a peaceful world where the resources are used rationally to the benefit of the whole human race."

There were somber notes too.

French President Charles de Gaulle said in a year-end address that France would press ahead with development of a hydrogen bomb.

He said France, which already possesses atomic bombs, required the hydrogen weapon to meet "the threat of aggression" and to assure the nation's independence.

Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist Chinese president, said at Taipei: "Let us be prepared in the coming year for military and political moves leading to recovery of the mainland."

Meanwhile, the arrival of the new year was celebrated around the world.

In the Soviet Union it was a time for gift exchanging, the traditional custom there. Moscow stores were thronged on New Year's Eve. The stores seemed fairly well stocked, but people seemed to feel that shortages were imminent. Restaurants were booked solid.

Buenos Aires residents began their whoopee early — at noon Tuesday. Office workers poured tons of ticker tape, old calendar leaves and shredded newspapers out of windows. Children raised a great din setting off firecrackers.

In Italy, people tossed junk from windows and doors, a symbolic activity in which the old is discarded to make way for the new.

Happiest

Berlin's celebration was the happiest since the Communists split the city with a wall between East and West. Temporary opening of the barrier made it possible for many thousands of West Berliners to join relatives in the Soviet sector.

In the United States, citizens thronged churches for "watch night" services. Others celebrated in nightclubs, restaurants and private homes.

In Boston, the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel called off its new year's party out of respect for the late President Kennedy.

New Event

New York, scene of the long-famous gathering in Times Square, had one new and unusual event.

It was a charity ball in Grand Central Terminal's main concourse at prices ranging from $25 to $100. Tables were set up for 3,000 persons.

One New Year's Day event in New York is one with small appeal for most people. Members of the Iceberg Athletic Club will take a dip in the Atlantic Ocean off Coney Island for the [illegible]6th year.

Exchanges

Elsewhere, there were these exchanges of greetings and comments by prominent figures:

Commmunist China state and party leaders sent a message of greetings to Premier Fidel Castro on the fifth anniversary of the Cuban revolution.

Friendship Associations of the Soviet Union and Red China exchanged greetings emphasizing what they called a strengthening of friendship between the two nations in 1964. The two countries were at times near the break-off point during 1963.

Khrushchev and Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda exchanged goodwill messages. Khrushchev called for closer ties between the nations. Ikeda spoke of greater efforts toward world peace and security of mankind.

WEST BERLINERS . . . join in toast in East Berlin.

Berliners Drink Out The Old

. . . IN MOST ROLLICKING MOOD

Berlin (AP) — Berliners drank out the old year Tuesday night in their most rollicking mood since Communists built the wall that split the city and many of its families 28 months ago.

Armed with permits granted by the Communist regime, 56,287 West Berliners poured through five temporary holes in the wall to celebrate with their relatives and friends in the East sector.

The prosperous West Berliners took with them bottles of scotch and bourbon—the fashionable tipples in the West—and were greeted by their hosts with ice-cold bottles of Russian vodka.

The whisky-vodka parties were symptomatic of the strong feeling of East-West relaxation induced by the reunions in this city, so long divided by the cold war.

West Berlin's mayor, Willy Brandt, summed up the feeling this way in an article written for the new year edition of the independent West Berlin Telegraf:

"In the last weeks the whole world has seen that, despite the wall and barbed wire, we Berliners have remained one family."

The hard-drinking Berliners have always had themselves a rip-roaring time on New Year's Eve.

This time there was the exuberence of reunion and a strong element of hope for a better future in the thaw of the cold war.

Brandt said: "We enter without illusions but with new hope into the new year."

The Socialist leader said the temporary arrangement for visits by West Berliners to the East sector has "given birth to a step of practical movement as well as strong moral and spiritual energy."

He promised to try to get the deadline for the visitors' permits extended beyond Jan. 5, when the present arrangement is scheduled to end. But he said that, as before, there would be no bowing to Red blackmail.

WATCHING ORANGE BOWL PARADE

LBJ Signs Works Bill, Protests Canal Section

Johnson City, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson considered vetoing a $4.4-billion public works bill but signed it Tuesday with a protest that one section hands congressional committees unconstitutional power.

That section bars the Panama Canal Co. from disposing of any real property without advance approval from appropriate congressional committees.

Johnson said four U.S. attorneys general have held the Constitution is violated by such "delegation to congressional committees of powers which reside only in the Congress as a whole, or an attempt to confer executive powers on the committees."

In view of that, the President said, "It is my intention to treat the provision as a request for information and to direct that appropriate legislative committees be kept fully informed" about Panama Canal property.

Johnson made it clear in a memorandum to Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance, who oversees the Panama Canal Co., that the company is not to regard the provision as requiring committee approval or disapproval of specific transfer of its property.

The bill Johnson signed also provides: construction funds for many flood control, navigation and reclamation projects of the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau; operations of the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Bonneville, Southwestern and Southeastern Power Administration and some river basin commissions.

Pile Of Work

The signing of the public works bill under protest was only part of a pile of paper work that kept Johnson busy much of New Year's Eve.

He also conferred with a four-man delegation he sent from Washington to Kansas City, Mo., to brief former President Harry S. Truman on a wide sweep of affairs at home and abroad.

As for the paper work, Johnson killed a couple of bills by pocket veto—withholding his signature from the measures one way or the other. This can be done only when Congress is not in session.

Education Tour

One statement announced a January tour for his commissioner of education, Francis Keppel, to help speed new education programs approved by Congress. Keppel will hold one-day multi-state seminars in Atlanta, Dallas, New York City, Chicago and San Francisco.

The President got off a telegram to Charles G. Mortimer of White Plains, N.Y., plugging a drive for $50 million to help Negro colleges. Mortimer is chairman of the United Negro College Development Campaign, which has raised about $20 million so far.

One pocket veto killed a bill which would have required the marking of the country of origin on all imported wood products and sawed lumber — a step that would have disturbed Canada.

The other pocket veto involved a personal compensation matter for a former government employee.

Support Of Russia To Greek Cypriots

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — The Soviet Union announced Tuesday night it will support Cyprus' Greek Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios in a complaint against Turkey if he decides to press the Cyprus conflict before the United Nations.

The announcement came after police reported Turkish houses were burned down during an exchange of prisoners under a British-administered cease-fire between the hostile Turk and Greek communities.

President Makarios had said earlier in the day he will call for United Nations to help if the British peace plan fails to reunify the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Sincere

Soviet Ambassador Pavel Yermoshin called on the president with a note saying:

"The Soviet Union feels sincere sympathy for the courageous, freedom-loving Cyprus people and shares their aspirations for safeguarding their national independence and national integrity. The Soviet Union condemns any attempt at intervention in the internal affairs of Cyprus under any pretext or any form this may take."

The note added that instructions have been given to the Soviet U.N. delegate to support Cyprus before the Security Council.

No Action

The council met in emergency session in New York late last Friday night and early Saturday at Cyprus' urgent request but took no action after hearing the Cypriot delegate complain of Turkish naval movements near north Cyprus and Turkish denials of hostile intentions.

Britain's secretary for commonwealth relations, Duncan Sandys, began an immediate inquiry into the Turkish house fires. A spokesman for Sandys, who is looking after Cyprus' interests as a member of the British Commonwealth, made a protest to the Cypriot government over the fires but did not suggest how they were started.

As freed Turkish prisoners were being greeted by friends and relatives, police issued a statement reporting:

"At least three houses, believed to be Turkish, have been burned."

It added that more fires were reported to have broken out in the vicinity. There was no immediate report of how the fires started.

Britain To Fly In Additional Troops

London (Wednesday) (AP) — Britain will fly an additional 700 troops to troubled Cyprus, the defense ministry announced today.

The reinforcements have been assigned to protect Britain's base areas on the island.

Teacher Rules Signed By Acting Gov. Stryker

Acting Gov. Harold Stryker Tuesday signed the new rules and regulations for teacher certification drawn by the State Board of Education thus permitting them to take effect Wednesday as prescribed by the new law.

The rules had not been delivered to Gov. Frank Morrison for his signature prior to his leaving Sunday for Miami, but it had been anticipated he would sign them upon his return.

State Department of Education officials were anxious to have them signed so they could be filed with the Secretary of State's office to become effective on the prescribed date, so the acting governor affixed his signature to the papers.

Stryker said he met with Deputy Commissioner of Education Stanley Hawley and Assistant Commissioner Dr. Leroy Ortgiesen and reviewed the rules which are designed to make teacher certification standards more flexible.

The acting governor said he had not been in contact with Morrison, but added that to his knowledge the governor had not indicated any thoughts about refusing to sign them.

"If it develops there are some unworkable provisions in the new rules, they can be changed at a later date," Stryker said.

Letter By Hospital Unit Brings Protest

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

It was learned Tuesday that the State Board of Public Accountancy is protesting a letter from the Nebraska Hospital Association to its members recommending a special certified public accounting firm for assistance in making hospital audits.

State Auditor Ray C. Johnson, secretary of the accountancy board, confirmed Tuesday that he has been directed by the board to advise the association that it considers the recommendation "in violation" of rules of professional conduct for accountants.

The issue is part of the controversy revolving around a State Welfare Department ruling that it will accept only those hospital audits made by certified public accountants when requested to reimburse hospitals for the actual cost of caring for patients on assistance roles.

Opinion Asked

Gov. Frank Morrison has asked the attorney general for an opinion as to whether the state welfare director has the authority to require that such audits be restricted to certified public accountants as the welfare director was ordered to do by the Welfare Advisory Committee.

In connection with this controversy it was learned that the hospital association sent its members in October a letter suggesting the Arthur Anderson accounting firm in Omaha could be contacted for advice on hospital audits.

In the letter, the association said to its member hospitals: "Your local accountants should be able to install this (Nebraska Hospital Association Manual) accounting system. If not, call or write your Nebraska Hospital Association for assistance, or Arthur Andersen and Company, Aquila Court Building, Omaha."

"Violates Intent"

Johnson said the singling out of one accounting firm "violates the intent" of Section 6 of the rules of professional conduct provided under the Nebraska Public Accountancy Law.

Stuart C. Mount, executive director of the hospital association, said he had mimeographed the letter written by officers of the association and sent it to the 121 member hospitals.

"If we erred, it was unintentional," Mount stated, adding that the association would be glad to "rectify" the situation by sending out the information requested by the board of accountancy.

BEATRICE BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT TO DEATH

Beatrice (AP) — A Beatrice boy, 15-year-old Ronald Hansel, was killed in a hunting accident Tuesday afternoon.

Deputy County Atty. Harlan Hubka said the charge from a .12 gauge shotgun struck the youth in the head.

Hansel was hunting with his brother Robert, 11, and Henry Hohlbein, 41, of Beatrice.

Hohlbein said he fired his .12 gauge shotgun at a pheasant. Just as the weapon discharged, Hohlbein said the Hansel boy jumped in the path of the charge.

The boy was standing about six feet from Hohlbein.

SOUTHEAST HIT BY SNOWSTORM

Atlanta (AP) — A crippling snowstorm smacked the southeast Tuesday, snarling traffic and closing factories and stores from North Carolina to Louisiana.

The heaviest snowfall of the century, nearly four inches, blanketed usually balmy New Orleans, now flooded with tourists who came for the traditional New Years festivities.

It was the greatest snowfall in New Orleans since 1899 and the first measurable snow in almost four years.

Businesses Close

In Atlanta, stores and public offices were closed to allow employes an early start home. The huge Lockheed-Georgia aircraft plant also suspended operations, as snow and ice caused the year's worst driving conditions.

Snow and freezing rain were reported in Northwest Florida, Alabama, South and North Carolina, Virginia and Mississippi.

At Ocean Springs, Miss., the Biloxi-Ocean Springs bridge was restricted to one-way traffic due to icing conditions.

Gulf Storm

The cause of all the severe weather was a storm that developed in the Gulf of Mexico and spread rain and snow while slowly moving northeasterly.

But in usually frigid South and North Dakota, spring-like temperatures ranging up to 62 degrees were recorded.

Rapid City, S.D., had a 62 reading at 2p.m. Pierre, S.D., recorded 51 and Bismarck, N.D., 50.

The warmup extended all the way to International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, which reported a mild 24 degrees. The border city normally records below-zero temperatures all day at this time of the year.

Intense cold covered the northeastern quarter of the United States early in the day.

Lincolnite Dies At Bowl Parade

Miami, Fla.—A man Miami police identified as Clarence Jones, 61, of Lincoln, Neb., suffered a heart attack and died during the King Orange Jamboree parade here Tuesday evening.

No further identification was available.

Parade witnesses said the man—apparently the only Nebraskaan in the parade except for the University of Nebraska band—marched with a suitcase marked "Nebraska Carpetbaggers."

He collapsed at Biscayne Blvd. and Flagler, the main intersection in downtown Miami.

Lonesome End 'Scores' With Grenade After Being Wounded

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — Two distinguished alumni of West Point are among the walking wounded of yearend combat in South Viet Nam's anti-Communist war.

They are Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Jr. (class of '33) and 1st Lt. William S. Carpenter Jr. (class of '60).

A 26-year-old paratroop officer who made sports history in 1959 as football's first lonesome end, Carpenter was hit by a Red guerrilla's bullet near the elbow of his right arm in a skirmish Saturday on a cane field 12 miles outside Saigon.

In Copter

Stilwell, 51, son of a famous World War II general, was among four Americans slightly wounded by flying fragments when Communist ground fire ripped into their armed helicopter and shattered its plexiglass bubble over the Mekong Delta Monday. The commander of all U.S. Army support units in Viet Nam, he suffered cuts on his neck.

Carpenter knocked out a Communist Viet Cong position with a grenade after the one bullet punctured his arm and another slammed into the radio on his back, spinning him around and felling him.

"I lay there a few minutes and then threw a grenade at their position, about five yards away," he said. "One of the Viet Cong jumped up, but one of our people cut him down with a tommy gun . . . later they found eight Viet Cong bodies in the area."

One of Seven

The blue-eyed, sandy-haired lieutenant, adviser to the Vietnamese airborne brigade, was one of seven Americans wounded that day. Another was killed, bringing the total American dead in South Viet Nam to 163.

It was as the lonesome end of the U.S. Military Academy's football team four years ago that Carpenter made sports page headlines. He was so designated after the Army coach stationed him far to the side of the line of scrimmage in a move designed to split opposition defenses. Carpenter's two touchdowns helped win the North-South game in Miami in 1959 for the northern team.

General's Son

Stilwell is the son of Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, American commander in the China-Burma-India theater of World War II who died in San Francisco in 1946.

Unscathed through Asian duty in World War II, in Korea and through 14 months in Viet Nam, Stilwell said:

"Stuff was flying around all afternoon.

"Sometimes you get it out there, sometimes you don't. We just happened to get it . . . I guess I've been lucky, but I don't see why my luck shouldn't hold out."

Shoup Passes Marine Corps Colors To New Commandant, Lt. Gen. Greene

Washington (AP) — Gen. David M. Shoup passed the red-and-gold battle colors of the Marine Corps to Lt. Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr. Tuesday.

With this symbolic act, the retiring commandant also passed leadership of the nation's 90,000 Leathernecks to the slim, spare Vermonter who has been his righthand man for the past four years.

Greene became the 23d commandant of the Marine Corps in a traditional ceremony held in the grassy quadrangle of the historic Marine barracks.

Served 33 Years

Shoup, known for his colorful language, spoke briefly and soberly as he bade farewell to the corps he has served for 33 years and led for the past four.

Looking back over those years, the 59-year-old Shoup voiced satisfaction.

"The plow is scouring well now," the Indiana-born Shoup said in the farm vernacular he likes to use. Then he told his men:

"Well done for the past, good luck for the future."

Wednesday, Greene will pin on his fourth star as a full general and take the oath.

Younger

Three years younger than Shoup, Greene is a contrast in manner and service background.

Much of his 33-year-career has been spent in staff posts. He is known as a planner and a thinker rather than the kind of gung-ho man-in-action personified by Shoup who won the Medal of Honor in the Pacific battle of Tarawa.

The forward-range of Greene's thinking was disclosed at his first news conference after being named commandant last September.

Possible

In matter-of-fact tones, the unspectacular-looking general predicted it will be possible in time to rocket a full battalion of Marines from the east coast to Africa in 80 minutes.

Though seemingly self effacing close up, the people at corps headquarters who wrote his official profile described him as anything but.

That profile, distributed last month, called Greene a "tactical and strategic genius . . . hard-driving, brilliant training expert" and other things in the same vein.

The new commandant was born in Waterbury, Vt., on Dec. 27, 1907. After a year at the University of Vermont, he entered the Naval Academy and graduated from Annapolis in June 1930.

For his service in the Pacific war, during which he helped plan the Marshall Islands invasion, he received the Legion of Merit.

Rockefeller Reveals New Year's Eve Surprise; He And His Second Wife Expecting Child In June

New York (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only official Republican Presidential candidate, revealed Tuesday in a surprise New Year's Eve announcement he and his second wife expect their first child in June — in time for him to go to the GOP convention as a proud father.

Reports had circulated for several weeks that Rockefeller and his wife, the former Margaretta Fitler Murphy who is nicknamed "Happy", were expecting. But the governor denied them.

The first confirmation came Tuesday when Mrs. George E. Bartol of Wynnewood, Pa., Mrs. Rockefeller's mother, let the news of the happy event slip just like any pleased grandmother.

Several hours later, the governor's executive offices in Albany formally confirmed it with the following statement:

"Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced Tuesday that they expect the arrival of a child early in June of 1964."

Rockefeller and his first wife, Mrs. Mary Clark Rockefeller, had five children. His youngest son, Michael, died in 1961 on a trip to New Guina to collect native art.

The present Mrs. Rockefeller and her former husband, Dr. James Slater Murphy of the Rockefeller Institute staff, had four children — James, 12, Margaret, 10, Carol, 7, and Melinda, 3. She divorced him a month before she married the governor on May 14, 1963.

The Murphy's reached an amicable agreement on the custody of their children. It did not specify any particular custody. The children make their home with Dr. Murphy at his Manhattan town house, but Mrs. Rockefeller has had them with her at various times.

Wisner Girl Receives Top U.S. 4-H Honors

. . . Miss Skinner A U Of N Coed

Washington, D. C. — A Wisner, Neb., girl has been named national 4-H representative at the American Institute of Cooperation's 1964 annual meeting at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., in August, it was announced here this week.

Joan Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Skinner of Wisner, and a junior at the University of Nebraska, will be in charge of youth sessions at the AIC meeting along with National FFA president Nels J. Ackerson, Westfield, Ind.

Walter Jacoby, director of youth education for AIC, said Miss Skinner was chosen for the honor by fellow state scholarship winners during the 1963 Institute, held at Lincoln in August. The Cuming County student was among 26 Four-H'ers from all over the U.S. who received a scholarship award for excellence in farm business study.

JOAN SKINNER

The AIC makes up the largest annual meeting in the U.S. on farm business, and draws upward of 3,000 persons, including more than 1,000 farm youth. Organized in 1925, AIC is the national and research organization for agricultural co-operatives. Chartered as a university in the District of Columbia, it holds its annual summer session on a different Land Grant College campus each year.

Won Fair Award

In representing the nation's 4-H club members, Miss Skinner is eminently qualified, Jacoby pointed out. In 1962, she was one of four Nebraska 4-H club members named to attend the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. In nine years of club work, she completed projects in nine different agricultural and home economics areas, and took part in 10 different demonstrations. One of her demonstrations took top honors at the Nebraska State Fair and earned her the right to compete in the national livestock loss prevention demonstration contest in Chicago.

She served in all the principal offices of her own 4-H club, as well as president of the Cuming County 4-H junior leaders club and secretary of the University of Nebraska 4-H club. She has served as organist at her church and was valedictorian of her high school class.

Also a holder of the Frisbie scholarship at the University, she is majoring in home economics.

News Story Pays Off For Leader Dog Undertaking

Falls City (AP) — A newspaper story paid off for the "Leader Dog for the Blind" project here.

When Dolly, a German shepherd puppy being trained by Dennis Rieschick, Falls City high school student, for the Lincoln Club for the "Leader Dog for the Blind" school at Rochester Mich., was killed by a train, the fact appeared in the news.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holy of Murray, former Falls City residents, read the story and contributed one of their registered German shepherds to the Lions Club project.

Pyrotechnics Blowup Kills 5 In Carolina

Charleston, S.C. (AP) — Stored fireworks exploded in a North Charleston supermarket Tuesday night, killing at least five persons and injuring 14 others.

It was the third major fire in Charleston since Christmas Day and raised the city's death toll from fires in the last six days to at least 17. Twelve children were killed in a tenement house fire last Wednesday.

A series of explosions at Livingston's Super market ripped the two-story cement block and frame building apart as flames fed on the fireworks.

The dead included Aaron Herman Fine of Savannah Beach, Ga., Julius Gaillard, 17, and Robert McCoy, 16, both of Charleston. Two unidentified Negroes also were killed.

Officers said the injured included the Market's owner, Herbert Livingston, who was inside the building when the explosion started. His wife and two sons escaped serious injury.

Bloody Border Attack Gets Malaysia Mad At Indonesia

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (Wednesday) (AP) — Anger against Indonesia flared in Malaysia New Year's Day over a bloody terrorist attack on a Malaysian military outpost near the Indonesian Borneo frontier.

Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said, "If this is not a shooting war, I don't know what is," and the government sped a protest to U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

Razak, also defense minister, made the statement to newsmen when he viewed the arrival in Kuala Lumpur New Year's Eve of the bodies of eight Malaysian soldiers killed in a gun battle with alleged Indonesian guerrillas.

The fight was triggered by an attack Sunday night on an outpost 30 miles inside the territory of Sabah state (formerly British North Borneo). Nineteen other Malaysian troops were wounded in the biggest border clash since Indonesia pledged to crush this young federation.

City's '63 Construction 2nd Highest On Record

Lincoln's 1963 construction pace hit $23,136,920, making the year the city's second highest on record.

It was $4.3 million under 1962's all-time record high of $27,283,110, City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees said.

However, Vorhees predicted that a new high would be set in 1964 when several major building projects are expected to be started.

Vorhees said single-family residential construction was probably on a par with 1962, but several senior citizen apartment buildings accounted for more over-all living units during the previous year.

This year's overall total of 1,277 units compares with 1,673 for 1962.

December building permits amounted to $994,103.

Residential starts included 46 single-family, $553,949; two duplexes, $41,156, and two apartment buildings totalling 16 units, $108,900. Units totaled 66 as compared with 92 for a year ago.

There were no major commercial construction starts during the month.

2 Accidents Mar Opening Of New Year

Two minor injury accidents early Tuesday night were the only two incidents reported to police to mar the heralding of the New Year in Lincoln.

However, the Police Department received numerous telephone calls complaining about excessive noise and minor disturbances.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol reported few accidents on state highways.

Maria Mawhiney, 70, 2336 So. 17th, was struck by a car as she crossed 17th early in the evening. She was treated and released from Lincoln General Hospital. The driver of the car, Elizabeth A. Thompson, 20, 1400 So. 20th, told police she was turning north off A St.

Harry A. Stevens, 47, 1316 So. 24th, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released after his car was involved in a collision at 17th and P. The police are holding a 29-year-old Lincoln man they said fled from the scene on foot. He was arrested by two policemen at 22nd and S a short time after the accident.

Sale Of 1964 Car Tags Set

Lancaster County motor vehicle tags will be available Thursday provided Lincoln residents have received their tax statements.

Due to the Dec. 23 action of the Lincoln City Council to increase wheel tax 50%, the additional stamping of the change on the envelope has slowed down the mailing process.

Motor vehicle owners are urged to note the red stamp on the envelope indicating the amount due before returning their payment for new tags by mail.

Tags will be available in the motor vehicle department located in the basement of the Courthouse Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Summary of Conditions

A broad low pressure trough over the plains extends from northwestern Kansas through central Nebraska into southwest Manitoba with light southerly winds generally to the east of this trough causing an attendant moderation. This milder will continue through Wednesday night.

A Pacific cold front is causing some cooling to take place in parts of the Dakotas but not expected to penetrate Nebraska with any cooling on Wednesday. A newer surge of cooling working through western British Columbia and the Pacific northwest is not likely to interrupt the mild weather in our area.

Some local cloudiness is possible in parts of eastern Nebraska.

3 Girls Slug Housemother, Flee School

Three teen-age girls at the Geneva Girls Training School escaped Tuesday night after hitting a housemother over the head with a hammer.

Mrs. Gladys Hart, program director for the school, said Miss Edna Marquardt of York was treated at the school by a physician for minor lacerations.

Four girls intended to escape from the institution, but one was held back by another girl in the cottage in which they live, Mrs. Hart said. There were 21 girls plus a "cottage parent" or housemother in the cottage at the time, she said.

After hitting the cottage parent, the girls ransacked her room apparently looking for money, Mrs. Hart reported. She said they were unable to determine how much money was taken.

Mrs. Hart said Miss Marquardt received assistance within five minutes after she was hit. The girls had cut a telephone wire in the cottage before leaving, Mrs. Hart added.

Of the girls who escaped, one was a 17-year-old from Lincoln, Mrs. Hart said. The others were a 17-year-old from Omaha and a 14-year-old from Osceola.

Wisner Girl Receives Top U.S. 4-H Honors

. . . Miss Skinner A U Of N Coed

Washington, D. C. — A Wisner, Neb., girl has been named national 4-H representative at the American Institute of Cooperation's 1964 annual meeting at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., in August, it was announced here this week.

Joan Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Skinner of Wisner, and a junior at the University of Nebraska, will be in charge of youth sessions at the AIC meeting along with National FFA president Nels J. Ackerson, Westfield, Ind.

Walter Jacoby, director of youth education for AIC, said Miss Skinner was chosen for the honor by fellow state scholarship winners during the 1963 Institute, held at Lincoln in August. The Cuming County student was among 26 Four-H'ers from all over the U.S. who received a scholarship award for excellence in farm business study.

JOAN SKINNER

The AIC makes up the largest annual meeting in the U.S. on farm business, and draws upward of 3,000 persons, including more than 1,000 farm youth. Organized in 1925, AIC is the national and research organization for agricultural co-operatives. Chartered as a university in the District of Columbia, it holds its annual summer session on a different Land Grant College campus each year.

Won Fair Award

In representing the nation's 4-H club members, Miss Skinner is eminently qualified, Jacoby pointed out. In 1962, she was one of four Nebraska 4-H club members named to attend the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. In nine years of club work, she completed projects in nine different agricultural and home economics areas, and took part in 10 different demonstrations. One of her demonstrations took top honors at the Nebraska State Fair and earned her the right to compete in the national livestock loss prevention demonstration contest in Chicago.

She served in all the principal offices of her own 4-H club, as well as president of the Cuming County 4-H junior leaders club and secretary of the University of Nebraska 4-H club. She has served as organist at her church and was valedictorian of her high school class.

Also a holder of the Frisbie scholarship at the University, she is majoring in home economics.

News Story Pays Off For Leader Dog Undertaking

Falls City (AP) — A newspaper story paid off for the "Leader Dog for the Blind" project here.

When Dolly, a German shepherd puppy being trained by Dennis Rieschick, Falls City high school student, for the Lincoln Club for the "Leader Dog for the Blind" school at Rochester Mich., was killed by a train, the fact appeared in the news.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holy of Murray, former Falls City residents, read the story and contributed one of their registered German shepherds to the Lions Club project.

Pyrotechnics Blowup Kills 5 In Carolina

Charleston, S.C. (AP) — Stored fireworks exploded in a North Charleston supermarket Tuesday night, killing at least five persons and injuring 14 others.

It was the third major fire in Charleston since Christmas Day and raised the city's death toll from fires in the last six days to at least 17. Twelve children were killed in a tenement house fire last Wednesday.

A series of explosions at Livingston's Super market ripped the two-story cement block and frame building apart as flames fed on the fireworks.

The dead included Aaron Herman Fine of Savannah Beach, Ga., Julius Gaillard, 17, and Robert McCoy, 16, both of Charleston. Two unidentified Negroes also were killed.

Officers said the injured included the Market's owner, Herbert Livingston, who was inside the building when the explosion started. His wife and two sons escaped serious injury.

Bloody Border Attack Gets Malaysia Mad At Indonesia

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (Wednesday) (AP) — Anger against Indonesia flared in Malaysia New Year's Day over a bloody terrorist attack on a Malaysian military outpost near the Indonesian Borneo frontier.

Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said, "If this is not a shooting war, I don't know what is," and the government sped a protest to U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

Razak, also defense minister, made the statement to newsmen when he viewed the arrival in Kuala Lumpur New Year's Eve of the bodies of eight Malaysian soldiers killed in a gun battle with alleged Indonesian guerrillas.

The fight was triggered by an attack Sunday night on an outpost 30 miles inside the territory of Sabah state (formerly British North Borneo). Nineteen other Malaysian troops were wounded in the biggest border clash since Indonesia pledged to crush this young federation.

City's '63 Construction 2nd Highest On Record

Lincoln's 1963 construction pace hit $23,136,920, making the year the city's second highest on record.

It was $4.3 million under 1962's all-time record high of $27,283,110, City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees said.

However, Vorhees predicted that a new high would be set in 1964 when several major building projects are expected to be started.

Vorhees said single-family residential construction was probably on a par with 1962, but several senior citizen apartment buildings accounted for more over-all living units during the previous year.

This year's overall total of 1,277 units compares with 1,673 for 1962.

December building permits amounted to $994,103.

Residential starts included 46 single-family, $553,949; two duplexes, $41,156, and two apartment buildings totalling 16 units, $108,900. Units totaled 66 as compared with 92 for a year ago.

There were no major commercial construction starts during the month.

2 Accidents Mar Opening Of New Year

Two minor injury accidents early Tuesday night were the only two incidents reported to police to mar the heralding of the New Year in Lincoln.

However, the Police Department received numerous telephone calls complaining about excessive noise and minor disturbances.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol reported few accidents on state highways.

Maria Mawhiney, 70, 2336 So. 17th, was struck by a car as she crossed 17th early in the evening. She was treated and released from Lincoln General Hospital. The driver of the car, Elizabeth A. Thompson, 20, 1400 So. 20th, told police she was turning north off A St.

Harry A. Stevens, 47, 1316 So. 24th, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released after his car was involved in a collision at 17th and P. The police are holding a 29-year-old Lincoln man they said fled from the scene on foot. He was arrested by two policemen at 22nd and S a short time after the accident.

Sale Of 1964 Car Tags Set

Lancaster County motor vehicle tags will be available Thursday provided Lincoln residents have received their tax statements.

Due to the Dec. 23 action of the Lincoln City Council to increase wheel tax 50%, the additional stamping of the change on the envelope has slowed down the mailing process.

Motor vehicle owners are urged to note the red stamp on the envelope indicating the amount due before returning their payment for new tags by mail.

Tags will be available in the motor vehicle department located in the basement of the Courthouse Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Summary of Conditions

A broad low pressure trough over the plains extends from northwestern Kansas through central Nebraska into southwest Manitoba with light southerly winds generally to the east of this trough causing an attendant moderation. This milder will continue through Wednesday night.

A Pacific cold front is causing some cooling to take place in parts of the Dakotas but not expected to penetrate Nebraska with any cooling on Wednesday. A newer surge of cooling working through western British Columbia and the Pacific northwest is not likely to interrupt the mild weather in our area.

Some local cloudiness is possible in parts of eastern Nebraska.

3 Girls Slug Housemother, Flee School

Three teen-age girls at the Geneva Girls Training School escaped Tuesday night after hitting a housemother over the head with a hammer.

Mrs. Gladys Hart, program director for the school, said Miss Edna Marquardt of York was treated at the school by a physician for minor lacerations.

Four girls intended to escape from the institution, but one was held back by another girl in the cottage in which they live, Mrs. Hart said. There were 21 girls plus a "cottage parent" or housemother in the cottage at the time, she said.

After hitting the cottage parent, the girls ransacked her room apparently looking for money, Mrs. Hart reported. She said they were unable to determine how much money was taken.

Mrs. Hart said Miss Marquardt received assistance within five minutes after, she was hit. The girls had cut a telephone wire in the cottage before leaving, Mrs. Hart added.

Of the girls who escaped, one was a 17-year-old from Lincoln, Mrs. Hart said. The others were a 17-year-old from Omaha and a 14-year-old from Osceola.

Good Past, Better Future

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The world is now off and running in a brand new year with the fervent hope that the race will be a rewarding one. In looking back on 1963, there is a tendency to consider those things you view as shortcomings while giving little credit for the accomplishments. It is true that 1963 was not a banner year in many respects but it was a long way from a complete failure.

Big Events Of Year

Certainly, 1963 was a year of many great events in the fields of politics, civil rights, space exploration, sports and many others. While the cold war continues between East and West, it was thawed materially with what has since become nearly universal agreement upon a nuclear test ban treaty. There were deaths during the year that saddened the world and altered the course of history, the most shocking and disturbing of which was the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. By all standards of measurement, this was the most significant event of 1963 and will exert a tremendous influence upon 1964.

The death of the late President completely changed the political picture in the United States and, thus, influenced the course of history throughout the world. It was an event, too, that brought soul-searching and sober thought to the American people. The impact of the tragedy will be felt in an endless number of ways on the American scene for years to come.

On strictly a national scene, the most memorable public situation is a negative one—the failure of Congress, particularly the House, to achieve much of any legislative record. Congress racked up a record long session but spent most of its time in debate and delay. For 1964, it is hoped that Congress is now ready to go to work.

It was a big year in 1963 in Nebraska with one regular and one special session of the Legislature. Money, in one way or another, was the usual center of controversy. The administrative branch of state government was held tight with a meager level of appropriations from the Legislature. Two major areas of state need, highways and education, were left with little improvement. About all that was managed in these two areas was the maintenance of the status quo. Turned down by the senators were all efforts at broadening the state tax base. The senators did make some improvements in the field of property taxes and these changes should be reflected throughout the next 10 years in the form of a more equitable distribution of the tax load.

Stealing the spotlight on the state scene, however, was the matter of interest rates. On this subject the Legislature had a very difficult situation to deal with and made only about an average showing. Before all laws on the subject were settled in the special session of the Legislature, it was obvious that the voice of the lending industry spoke the loudest. But interest laws were improved some and protection of the general public increased, a level of achievement that might well have been much worse than that. Depending upon your point of view, the Legislature left much to be desired but was a great deal more constructive than its counterpart on the national scene.

It is at this point that you can find encouragement out of 1963 and hope for 1964. The year now ended was not perfect in a great many ways but it is foolhardy to expect that any year will ever be perfect. For one thing, everyone's idea of perfection is not the same so there will always be controversy and disagreement.

One has difficulty finding anything constructive in the human tragedy that marks the scene from time to time but in the passing of events there is always hope. We find in the presence of controversies, even those that go unresolved, at least a recognition of some challenge to the established way. We find at least an awareness of the need to make things better if we are to serve any useful purpose in our lives.

Inevitability Of Change

Nebraska and the nation have not done all those things that many people might like to have had done but we have faced the problems of the times and openly discussed them. We know that the future of education is a vital and difficult matter to deal with, even though we are still looking for a satisfactory answer. So long as we keep looking, however, we will make progress and this is the way things are supposed to work in a democracy such as ours. There were high points reached in 1963 and the same will be done in 1964 because change is as inevitable as night following day.

What we might hope for most of all in 1964 is an improved climate of discussion rather than any specific ends. We might hope that issues are faced with less intolerance and with more knowledge and understanding than has been the case at times in the past.

Patience Is A Virtue

It was a timely warning given the West Berlin city government by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. The West Berlin government under Mayor Willy Brandt has suggested it negotiate with East Germany a permanent solution to the problem or irritation of the Berlin wall. The issue has grown since the East's opening of the wall for visits into the communist territory over the Christmas holidays.

Erhard reminded Brandt that he is responsible to all of West Germany as well as to the Western allies. Thus, it is beyond his power to develop policies or decide issues that have not been approved by higher authorities. What negotiations over the wall would do is recognize the government of East Germany which until now has not been recognized by the West.

It would seem to be a mistake at this time to give such recognition, either by specific word or simple action. Officially, the West does not recognize the East German regime as one established by law and order. It is a government forced upon the East German people by Russia and, thus, not one freely chosen as the West insists upon.

One of the tactics of communism is to perpetrate a crime and then live with it so long that it takes on an air of respectability. If we recognize the communist government of East Germany, we are recognizing this tactic of communism and thereby abandoning a position we have held since the end of World War II. We would be condoning the spread of communism by force of arms, subversion and any other means employed by the Kremlin. In our impatience, we dare not fail to recognize evil as evil, even if it is of long standing.

Makarios In The Wrong

It is to be hoped that 1964 will bring a quick end to the trouble which has flared in Cyprus. And there is evidence that it will be that way.

It will take, mainly, a lesson in restraint, to be learned by Archbishop Makarios, the political and spiritual leader of the Greek majority.

Four years ago Great Britain retired from Cyprus as its colonial possessor. The difficulties were smoothed by a new constitution which offered a practical working arrangement in which Turkish minority interests would be preserved in the face of an almost 4 to 1 majority of Greek Cypriots. To this the Makarios administration agreed.

But recently Makarios proposed 13 constitutional amendments mostly aimed at the reduction or abolition of safeguards for the minority. The archbishop is defending his rejection of the original constitution by saying that conditions of violence, and the desire of sovereignty acted as coercive influences which caused him to agree to a constitution he could not otherwise support.

This may sound like a good argument to him, but he is actually saying he did not enter into the original agreement in good faith, but rather used Cypriot freedom to gain ends by device. This, in itself, is sufficient to disqualify him as a repository of trust on the part of the Turkish minority. It is a good reason for Western sponsors of Cyprus to step in.

The Turkish minority has not sought control of the Cyprus government over the Greek majority. It has been content enough with guarantees of a minority interest. These are not unreasonable and the Greek majority should be required to observe them.

Day For Noteworthy Events

New Year's day is a popular one in American history for significant events.

It is the birth anniversary of Paul Revere (1735) noted horseman whom the British of his time would just as soon he hadn't been born.

It was the day in 1863 that Abraham Lincoln chose to issue his Emancipation Proclamation. He declared that as far as the U.S. was concerned slavery ceased to exist in the unconquered parts of the seceded states. It was a great first step. A wise Congress after 1865 would have restricted European immigration sufficiently to have made freedom more real by putting jobs under it. Having failed or refused to do that the solons put off the problem until now. The condition has thus been greatly aggravated.

It was also on this date in 1863 that the Homestead Act went into effect. Daniel Freeman, a Union soldier on his way back to camp after a brief leave, lined up at the head of the line at Brownsville and obtained land patent No. 1. He got a fertile piece of ground on the old St. DeRoin trail in easy distance from Beatrice. After the war he returned to improve the premises with a log cabin and other comfortable appurtenances and divided his time into private and public service. He served as Gage County sheriff and as representative to the state legislature.

Freeman's acreage is now the site of a national monument, with a museum and federal caretakers. Many visitors sign the register there but few realize that when the state highway they travel begins to lead this way and that with wooded Cub creek always in sight that they are traveling that much of one of Nebraska's earliest important trails.

New Year's day in 1942 witnessed the formation of the United Nations in San Francisco, a manifestation of the world's contrite heart and resolve to do better.

Quiet Acts Show Service To Nation

WASHINGTON—A lot of people during the year 1963 carried out John F. Kennedy's plea, "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country." They ranged from little people like Charlie Kohen, the Georgetown antique dealer, to the giant New York Central railroad.

Here is a cross-section of some of them.

Charlie Kohen, who picks up everything from Indian arrowheads to the rare letters of famous statesmen, was able to locate one of the rarest rifles in American history — the first rifle presented to President Lincoln for use by the Northern army in the Civil War. Kohen could have bought it cheap and resold it for $25,000. In fact, a Texas collector later offered more than that. Instead he arranged to have it presented to the Smithsonian Institution without charge to the government.

Earlier Charlie had presented to the Library of Congress the Calvin Coolidge letter collection, 9,000 of them, acquired by Coolidge's White House secretary, Ted Clark. Kohen had also arranged for the first airplane flown by Orville Wright to be given to the Smithsonian. This is what one man did for his country.

☆ ☆ ☆

The New York Central Railroad — You don't generally expect a big, unwieldy thing like a railroad to be asking what it can do for its country. But on New Year's eve, the Central made its famous Grand Central station available to a charity ball to raise money for mental health.

To put 1,000 guests in the rotunda dancing to the tune of Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians in place of the usual commuters' sprint took a lot of organizing, and some of the railroad's operations men were skeptical. So were some of the concessionaires who at first figured on making a killing during the mental health ball, but learned they had to close down.

☆ ☆ ☆

Most caterers refused to handle the dinner because they had no time to set up tables until after the main rush of railroad traffic eased late in the evening. Finally the Brass Rail took on the job. The waiters union would not waive its usual triple time charge of $60 a night, but otherwise almost everyone else chipped in to ask what they could do for their country by way of raising money for mental health.

Hostages to Bolivian miners — When Americans were held hostage by rebel Bolivian tin miners, the public did not know that the United Auto Workers used its backstage influence to help secure their release.

It happens that Walter and Victor Reuther have long known Juan Lechin, former head of the Bolivian miners union, now vice president of Bolivia. Lechin held the key to the miners' revolt. The Reuther brothers bombarded him with cables and phone calls. Finally all the hostages were released.

LBJ Needs Help Of The Big States

WASHINGTON — In the excitement of change, it has been largely overlooked that President Johnson has inherited, among other things, the role of leader of his party.

Superficially, little has changed at national headquarters, as elsewhere. National Chairman John Bailey of Connecticut was asked to remain, and the mixed bag of Kennedy strategists there have not removed their files, either. But as strategy for President Kennedy must be reshaped for President Johnson agents to whom Kennedy interests were entrusted could hardly be expected to carry out their planned errands with the same zeal and effectiveness.

President Kennedy's appeal transcended party lines and was notably effective in big states. President Johnson will be very much more dependent upon the coattails of his congressional runningmates, especially in big states. In some of these he was frankly regarded as the enemy, a Senate name first whose regard for big voters and consumers was suspect.

Democrats are frequently beyond their strength when given a chance to work on each other with a knife, rather than reserving their energies for Republicans. This time they resisted temptation and have accepted the renomination of the President as a fact of life.

☆ ☆ ☆

Big-state leaders must make do with a Texan. The Texan knows he needs them, as his instant bows to such men as the mayors of New York and Chicago showed. Both recognize that they have a big selling job to do in the ever-more-likely event that Republicans next year will nominate a moderate ticket.

Another important dimension of the Johnson campaign problem is that every Democratic presidential candidate since Franklin Roosevelt has run behind his congressional ticket and on its coattails. Harry Truman's 1948 triumph was an historic refusal to be daunted by adverse circumstance, but he could not have prevailed had not Illinois, for example, given Adlai Stevenson the governship by half a million votes and sent Paul Douglas to the Senate with 400,000 to spare. In contrast, Truman barely made it there and elsewhere.

Unhappily for Johnson, Democrats next year have few such stars coming up in places where the big electoral votes blossom.

New York Democrats remain disorganized. In Pennsylvania the situation is little better, and the recent death of boss William Green of Philadelphia makes organization problems more keen. Also, it is beginning to look as if Republicans might nominate their attractive Pennsylvania governor, William Scranton.

BOB CONSIDINE

A Newsman's Calendar

NEW YORK—It has been a year beyond compare, from this reporter's view.

January—A day in the Waldorf apartment of Douglas MacArthur. A delegation of fellow winners of the Congressional Medal of Honor called upon him, half filling the big living room. There were more brave men assembled there in a limited space than were spread through much of the land.

Inevitably, they spoke of their outfits, not their exploits. Gen. MacArthur moved among them, remembering those outfits intimately . . . through the Philippine insurrection, the dispute with Mexico, World War I, World War II and Korea. The others looked up at him as schoolboys looked at Ruth.

February—A look around the Manned Space Center, Houston, and to stare in wonder at the mockup called L.E.M., for Lunar Excursion Module, in which two astronauts will one day make a landing on the moon . . . a taste of the food these Magellans of Space will eat . . . an examination of the glitteringly bright $25,000 space suit they'll wear. It was like being with Columbus and his men at the keel-laying of the Santa Maria

March—The Cassius Clay-Doug Jones fight at the Garden, and the hot anger of the first full-house the fight game has had in years—and maybe the last. The screams of "fake" and the rain of debris that pelted the ring after the officials gave the decision to Clay—who was named obviously, for his feet.

April—A new look at London, from the top of the London Hilton, a distinguished British friend who has lived there all his life and worked closely with Churchill and Beaverbrook during the war, peered 30 floors downward into the gardens of Buckingham Palace and exclaimed, "By Jove, there's a lake in the gardens."

May—Canaveral, and the strange realization that space reporters no longer cheered when an astronaut's Atlas booster successfully rose from its pad like a Biblical pillar of flame. It was a pretty jaded bunch, even as Leroy Cooper plunged 'round and 'round the world. But a whole day later, there came Coop down from on high, valiantly hand-muscling his Mercury capsule, and a whole world prayed, including space reporters.

And later that month to Rome. John XXIII was dying. Each day the Vatican tried to say "the end is near" in another way. But the old man who opened more windows in his church than most of his predecessors combined, would not die.

June—The Mass of the Holy Ghost was celebrated at the Altar of the Chair in St. Peters. The 80 cardinals came in and took their places, to pray for guidance in the coming conclave. Some were incredibly old and had to be helped to their kneeling benches. You scanned the faces of the younger ones—as youth is measured in the Sacred College of Cardinals.

The eyes kept returning to the sternly fixed face of the cardinal from Milan, Giovanni Battiste Montini . . .

In the restaurants and bars, the Romans made him an easy favorite to win. And in a short time there was white smoke shearing from the top of the chimney, and the world had a man who chose to take the name of the one who took the word to the world. . .

July—For us it opened in Rome. The New Pope, Paul VI, would receive in audience not only the first Catholic president, J. F. Kennedy, but the White House correspondents.

In his exchange with the President, the Pope said something that made us wonder. He expressed the hope that America's racial problems in the South would resolve themselves. He was hep, and frank.

The month ended for us at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii. Our Friend Gen. Rosy O'Donnell stood there in his white dress uniform and his jets swept overhead, thundering a farewell to a great man of arms.

August—A child only a few ever saw, yet millions rooted for and then mourned, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, died in a monstrous-looking steel boiler in Boston. A doctor led us to it, just after the baby's body had been removed. The little sheet was poignantly rumpled. Three doctors still lay on the floor of the tank, undergoing the slow decompression that would save them from the "bends."

And late in the month the unforgettable March on Washington. It was getting late in the day and the crowd had suffered much from the heat and the endless hours on foot. But then a man named Martin Luther King rose on the steps below Lincoln's marble feet and he cried out "I had a dream . . . " and he lifted that throng to an ecstasy of hope.

September—The Hearst task force set sail on its annual quest of hard-to-get news; and soon made news itself, by chance. Premier Hayato Ikeda told us he entertained no thoughts that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek would ever liberate Red China. When the story was published in Taipei students broke windows in the Japanese embassy. Chiang recalled his ambassador from Tokyo; Ikeda instructed the Japanese ambassador to Taipei to stop seeing Nationalist Chinese.

October—A Sunday at Yankee Stadium, and Jim Brown. He scored three times against the Giants and you swore, looking back over the years of covering such things, "This is the greatest."

November—The 22nd, to be exact. We were headed for Omaha to speak at a dinner given to 12 mid-western governors. The jet was nearing Chicago. The pilot clicked his public address mike on and you could hear him breathing for a bit. I guessed he was about to report that the weather at Chicago would cause a landing delay.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he finally said. "There is an unconfirmed report, and I repeat unconfirmed, that President Kennedy has been assassinated."

December—A whole family home for Christmas. That can be a big story, too, if the reporter is the father of the brood.

Blair, Neb.

The year, 1963, ended on a tragic note. Last November 22, we were confronted with dramatic if agonizing proof of what hate, doubt, distrust and prejudice can spawn. How long will the lesson last?

With the ending of the official mourning period over the death of our great President, as well as the termination of the "political moratorium," will come the next round of day-to-day skirmishes with life in this nation. We did not have to wait long for the political recriminations to renew under guise of keeping us an informed public.

I am a Democrat, by choice and conviction. If the other side ever offers what I think to be an improvement, I'll support it. I know Democrats in general and can never recall talking to one who indicated a hatred for Mr. Eisenhower when he was our president. Why, may I ask, can so much heat be generated against people like the Roosevelts and the Kennedys once they become our nation's leaders?

We should love rather than hate our nation's leaders. We could do this, except for what? Think about it! What has caused YOU to feel adversely about any president of this nation? Who are the doubters? The alarmists? The people or forces that play us, one against the other? And why?

I am almost sure that our churches do not teach us to hate or to doubt. I doubt that our educators do. Someone surely does. And if we are honest, and intelligent, we must know who — or what —causes us to get fevered and passionately negative about anything or anyone. We can do something about this, within ourselves.

Grandpa Says

Guide Rock, Neb.

I see by the papers that the experts are busy predicting what will happen in 1964. Grandpa says if them experts can predict what will happen in 1964, he figures he can, too. The only difference is them experts base their predictions on educated guesses and Grandpa bases his on plain old horse sense. Here are Grandpa's horse-sense predictions:

He says Congress will pass more legislation in 1964 than they did in 1963, on account of they can't pass any less.

He says them Farm Bureau boys won't come out for getting the goverment out of anything else. The only thing they ain't already been for getting the government out of is Washington, D.C., and even they don't dare go that far.

He says equal rights will get a big boost. Next November, Nebraska will be offered a chance to send three people to the House of Representatives so Nebraskans can be represented like them people in the other states.

He says women's skirts will get longer, on account of, the necklines are gettin' lower. He says if them dresses are to have any material in them, at all, it's a sure bet the top ends got to go up or the bottom ends got to go down.

The Republicans will draft a candidate to run against that LBJ, on account of when the war is already lost, there aren't many volunteers.

Grandpa says there ain't anybody goin' to the moon this year, on account of Conrad Hilton ain't opened a hotel there yet.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

I want to express the sincere appreciation of all of us at the Post Office for the fine coverage The Star gave the Christmas mailing program. The results of our "Mail Early" and "Wrap Carefully" publicity paid off with a very efficient and productive season. This would not have been possible except for the fine cooperation and the considerable amount of space that The Star devoted to our problems. We very much appreciate the help.

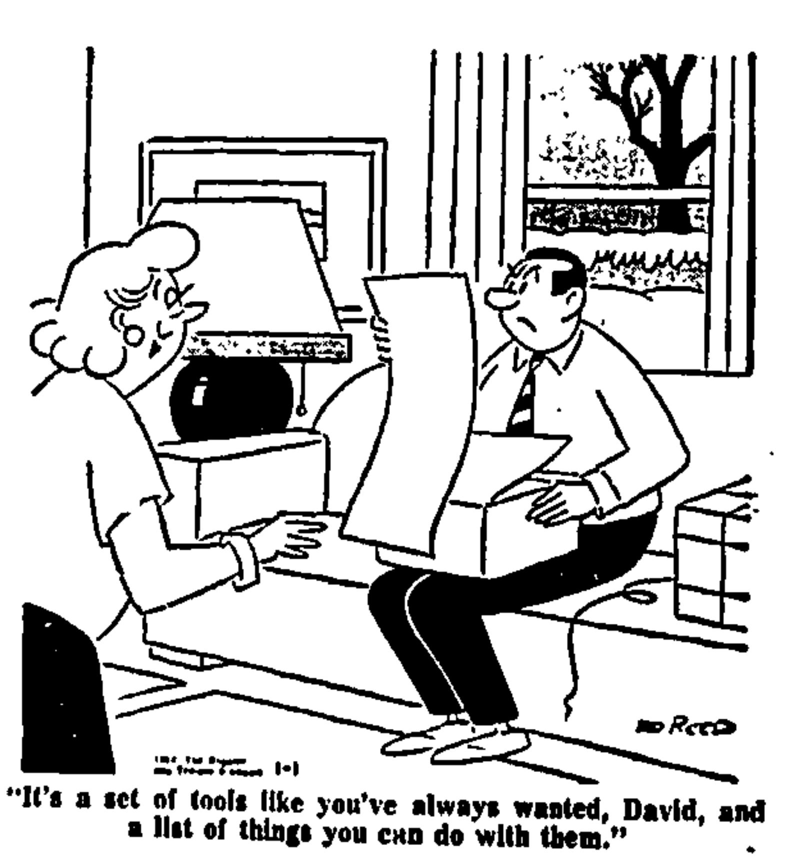
OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed



"It's a set of tools like you've always wanted, David, and a list of things you can do with them."

Good Past, Better Future

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The world is now off and running in a brand new year with the fervent hope that the race will be a rewarding one. In looking back on 1963, there is a tendency to consider those things you view as shortcomings while giving little credit for the accomplishments. It is true that 1963 was not a banner year in many respects but it was a long way from a complete failure.

Big Events Of Year

Certainly, 1963 was a year of many great events in the fields of politics, civil rights, space exploration, sports and many others. While the cold war continues between East and West, it was thawed materially with what has since become nearly universal agreement upon a nuclear test ban treaty. There were deaths during the year that saddened the world and altered the course of history, the most shocking and disturbing of which was the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. By all standards of measurement, this was the most significant event of 1963 and will exert a tremendous influence upon 1964.

The death of the late President completely changed the political picture in the United States and, thus, influenced the course of history throughout the world. It was an event, too, that brought soul-searching and sober thought to the American people. The impact of the tragedy will be felt in an endless number of ways on the American scene for years to come.

On strictly a national scene, the most memorable public situation is a negative one—the failure of Congress, particularly the House, to achieve much of any legislative record. Congress racked up a record long session but spent most of its time in debate and delay. For 1964, it is hoped that Congress is now ready to go to work.

It was a big year in 1963 in Nebraska with one regular and one special session of the Legislature. Money, in one way or another, was the usual center of controversy. The administrative branch of state government was held tight with a meager level of appropriations from the Legislature. Two major areas of state need, highways and education, were left with little improvement. About all that was managed in these two areas was the maintenance of the status quo. Turned down by the senators were all efforts at broadening the state tax base. The senators did make some improvements in the field of property taxes and these changes should be reflected throughout the next 10 years in the form of a more equitable distribution of the tax load.

Stealing the spotlight on the state scene, however, was the matter of interest rates. On this subject the Legislature had a very difficult situation to deal with and made only about an average showing. Before all laws on the subject were settled in the special session of the Legislature, it was obvious that the voice of the lending industry spoke the loudest. But interest laws were improved some and protection of the general public increased, a level of achievement that might well have been much worse than that. Depending upon your point of view, the Legislature left much to be desired but was a great deal more constructive than its counterpart on the national scene.

It is at this point that you can find encouragement out of 1963 and hope for 1964. The year now ended was not perfect in a great many ways but it is foolhardy to expect that any year will ever be perfect. For one thing, everyone's idea of perfection is not the same so there will always be controversy and disagreement.

One has difficulty finding anything constructive in the human tragedy that marks the scene from time to time but in the passing of events there is always hope. We find in the presence of controversies, even those that go unresolved, at least a recognition of some challenge to the established way. We find at least an awareness of the need to make things better if we are to serve any useful purpose in our lives.

Inevitability Of Change

Nebraska and the nation have not done all those things that many people might like to have had done but we have faced the problems of the times and openly discussed them. We know that the future of education is a vital and difficult matter to deal with, even though we are still looking for a satisfactory answer. So long as we keep looking, however, we will make progress and this is the way things are supposed to work in a democracy such as ours. There were high points reached in 1963 and the same will be done in 1964 because change is as inevitable as night following day.

What we might hope for most of all in 1964 is an improved climate of discussion rather than any specific ends. We might hope that issues are faced with less intolerance and with more knowledge and understanding than has been the case at times in the past.

Patience Is A Virtue

It was a timely warning given the West Berlin city government by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. The West Berlin government under Mayor Willy Brandt has suggested it negotiate with East Germany a permanent solution to the problem or irritation of the Berlin wall. The issue has grown since the East's opening of the wall for visits into the communist territory over the Christmas holidays.

Erhard reminded Brandt that he is responsible to all of West Germany as well as to the Western allies. Thus, it is beyond his power to develop policies or decide issues that have not been approved by higher authorities. What negotiations over the wall would do is recognize the government of East Germany which until now has not been recognized by the West.

It would seem to be a mistake at this time to give such recognition, either by specific word or simple action. Officially, the West does not recognize the East German regime as one established by law and order. It is a government forced upon the East German people by Russia and, thus, not one freely chosen as the West insists upon.

One of the tactics of communism is to perpetrate a crime and then live with it so long that it takes on an air of respectability. If we recognize the communist government of East Germany, we are recognizing this tactic of communism and thereby abandoning a position we have held since the end of World War II. We would be condoning the spread of communism by force of arms, subversion and any other means employed by the Kremlin. In our impatience, we dare not fail to recognize evil as evil, even if it is of long standing.

Makarios In The Wrong

It is to be hoped that 1964 will bring a quick end to the trouble which has flared in Cyprus. And there is evidence that it will be that way.

It will take, mainly, a lesson in restraint, to be learned by Archbishop Makarios, the political and spiritual leader of the Greek majority.

Four years ago Great Britain retired from Cyprus as its colonial possessor. The difficulties were smoothed by a new constitution which offered a practical working arrangement in which Turkish minority interests would be preserved in the face of an almost 4 to 1 majority of Greek Cypriots. To this the Makarios administration agreed.

But recently Makarios proposed 13 constitutional amendments mostly aimed at the reduction or abolition of safeguards for the minority. The archbishop is defending his rejection of the original constitution by saying that conditions of violence, and the desire of sovereignty acted as coercive influences which caused him to agree to a constitution he could not otherwise support.

This may sound like a good argument to him, but he is actually saying he did not enter into the original agreement in good faith, but rather used Cypriot freedom to gain ends by device. This, in itself, is sufficient to disqualify him as a repository of trust on the part of the Turkish minority. It is a good reason for Western sponsors of Cyprus to step in.

The Turkish minority has not sought control of the Cyprus government over the Greek majority. It has been content enough with guarantees of a minority interest. These are not unreasonable and the Greek majority should be required to observe them.

Day For Noteworthy Events

New Year's day is a popular one in American history for significant events.

It is the birth anniversary of Paul Revere (1735) noted horseman whom the British of his time would just as soon he hadn't been born.

It was the day in 1863 that Abraham Lincoln chose to issue his Emancipation Proclamation. He declared that as far as the U.S. was concerned slavery ceased to exist in the unconquered parts of the seceded states. It was a great first step. A wise Congress after 1865 would have restricted European immigration sufficiently to have made freedom more real by putting jobs under it. Having failed or refused to do that the solons put off the problem until now. The condition has thus been greatly aggravated.

It was also on this date in 1863 that the Homestead Act went into effect. Daniel Freeman, a Union soldier on his way back to camp after a brief leave, lined up at the head of the line at Brownsville and obtained land patent No. 1. He got a fertile piece of ground on the old St. DeRoin trail in easy distance from Beatrice. After the war he returned to improve the premises with a log cabin and other comfortable appurtenances and divided his time into private and public service. He served as Gage County sheriff and as representative to the state legislature.

Freeman's acreage is now the site of a national monument, with a museum and federal caretakers. Many visitors sign the register there but few realize that when the state highway they travel begins to lead this way and that with wooded Cub creek always in sight that they are traveling that much of one of Nebraska's earliest important trails.

New Year's day in 1942 witnessed the formation of the United Nations in San Francisco, a manifestation of the world's contrite heart and resolve to do better.

And later that month to Rome. John XXIII was dying. Each day the Vatican tried to say "the end is near" in another way. But the old man who opened more windows in his church than most of his predecessors combined, would not die.

June—The Mass of the Holy Ghost was celebrated at the Altar of the Chair in St. Peters. The 80 cardinals came in and took their places, to pray for guidance in the coming conclave. Some were incredibly old and had to be helped to their kneeling benches. You scanned the faces of the younger ones—as youth is measured in the Sacred College of Cardinals.

The eyes kept returning to the sternly fixed face of the cardinal from Milan, Giovanni Battiste Montini . . .

In the restaurants and bars, the Romans made him an easy favorite to win. And in a short time there was white smoke shearing from the top of the chimney, and the world had a man who chose to take the name of the one who took the word to the world. . .

July—For us it opened in Rome. The New Pope, Paul VI, would receive in audience not only the first Catholic president, J. F. Kennedy, but the White House correspondents.

In his exchange with the President, the Pope said something that made us wonder. He expressed the hope that America's racial problems in the South would resolve themselves. He was hep, and frank.

The month ended for us at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii. Our Friend Gen. Rosy O'Donnell stood there in his white dress uniform and his jets swept overhead, thundering a farewell to a great man of arms.

August—A child only a few ever saw, yet millions rooted for and then mourned, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, died in a monstrous-looking steel boiler in Boston. A doctor led us to it, just after the baby's body had been removed. The little sheet was poignantly rumpled. Three doctors still lay on the floor of the tank, undergoing the slow decompression that would save them from the "bends."

And late in the month the unforgettable March on Washington. It was getting late in the day and the crowd had suffered much from the heat and the endless hours on foot. But then a man named Martin Luther King rose on the steps below Lincoln's marble feet and he cried out "I had a dream . . . " and he lifted that throng to an ecstasy of hope.

September—The Hearst task force set sail on its annual quest of hard-to-get news; and soon made news itself, by chance. Premier Hayato Ikeda told us he entertained no thoughts that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek would ever liberate Red China. When the story was published in Taipei students broke windows in the Japanese embassy. Chiang recalled his ambassador from Tokyo; Ikeda instructed the Japanese ambassador to Taipei to stop seeing Nationalist Chinese.

October—A Sunday at Yankee Stadium, and Jim Brown. He scored three times against the Giants and you swore, looking back over the years of covering such things, "This is the greatest."

November—The 22nd, to be exact. We were headed for Omaha to speak at a dinner given to 12 mid-western governors. The jet was nearing Chicago. The pilot clicked his public address mike on and you could hear him breathing for a bit. I guessed he was about to report that the weather at Chicago would cause a landing delay.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he finally said. "There is an unconfirmed report, and I repeat unconfirmed, that President Kennedy has been assassinated."

December—A whole family home for Christmas. That can be a big story, too, if the reporter is the father of the brood.

The year, 1963, ended on a tragic note. Last November 22, we were confronted with dramatic if agonizing proof of what hate, doubt, distrust and prejudice can spawn. How long will the lesson last?

With the ending of the official mourning period over the death of our great President, as well as the termination of the "political moratorium," will come the next round of day-to-day skirmishes with life in this nation. We did not have to wait long for the political recriminations to renew under guise of keeping us an informed public.

I am a Democrat, by choice and conviction. If the other side ever offers what I think to be an improvement, I'll support it. I know Democrats in general and can never recall talking to one who indicated a hatred for Mr. Eisenhower when he was our president. Why, may I ask, can so much heat be generated against people like the Roosevelts and the Kennedys once they become our nation's leaders?

We should love rather than hate our nation's leaders. We could do this, except for what? Think about it! What has caused YOU to feel adversely about any president of this nation? Who are the doubters? The alarmists? The people or forces that play us, one against the other? And why?

I am almost sure that our churches do not teach us to hate or to doubt. I doubt that our educators do. Someone surely does. And if we are honest, and intelligent, we must know who — or what —causes us to get fevered and passionately negative about anything or anyone. We can do something about this, within ourselves.

Grandpa Says

Guide Rock, Neb.

I see by the papers that the experts are busy predicting what will happen in 1964.

Grandpa says if them experts can predict what will happen in 1964, he figures he can, too. The only difference is them experts base their predictions on educated guesses and Grandpa bases his on plain old horse sense. Here are Grandpa's horse-sense predictions:

He says Congress will pass more legislation in 1964 than they did in 1963, on account of they can't pass any less.

He says them Farm Bureau boys won't come out for getting the goverment out of anything else. The only thing they ain't already been for getting the government out of is Washington, D.C., and even they don't dare go that far.

He says equal rights will get a big boost. Next November, Nebraska will be offered a chance to send three people to the House of Representatives so Nebraskans can be represented like them people in the other states.

He says women's skirts will get longer, on account of, the necklines are gettin' lower. He says if them dresses are to have any material in them, at all, it's a sure bet the top ends got to go up or the bottom ends got to go down.

The Republicans will draft a candidate to run against that LBJ, on account of when the war is already lost, there aren't many volunteers.

Grandpa says there ain't anybody goin' to the moon this year, on account of Conrad Hilton ain't opened a hotel there yet.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

I want to express the sincere appreciation of all of us at the Post Office for the fine coverage The Star gave the Christmas mailing program. The results of our "Mail Early" and "Wrap Carefully" publicity paid off with a very efficient and productive season. This would not have been possible except for the fine cooperation and the considerable amount of space that The Star devoted to our problems. We very much appreciate the help.

TOUGHER LINE ON CUBA IS LIKELY IN 1964

Washington (AP) -- A somewhat tougher line toward ommunist · Cuba appears ikely in 1964 on the part of oth the United States and ts Latin American neighbors —several of whom have been eluctant in the past to take neaningful steps against the Castro regime.

What form the new pressures will take and how effective they will be remain o be seen. At present there eems to be no strong prospect of any armed intervenion unless Castro brings it on himself by overt aggressiveness.

Much of the U.S. effort eems likely to be directed again toward checkmating Castro's brand of communism by massive efforts to alleviate the poverty and social inequalities on which it feeds in many Latin American countries.

President Johnson is committed to a vitalizing of the Alliance for Progress, a $1-billion-a-year, cooperative development program which has been under considerable fire from members of Congress who feel it is not accomplishing enough and is not properly supported by those it is intended to benefit.

Some of these critics insist that tougher economic measures are needed to multipiy the bearded dictator's homefront problems to the point where he will have neither the time nor the money to foster Red rebellion in other Latin American nations.

The economic news from Cuba is increasingly bad. Like the Russians and other communist countires, the Cuban Red regime seems to be having trouble keeping its agricultural production going, even after expropriating properties worth many millions of dollars.

Some members of Congress, and an apparently increasing number of Latin American nations, are demanding something tougher than economic sanctions against Cuba.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk recently included Cuba in a list of what he termed "very large and dangerous" problems confronting the free world nations.

Diplomats here from Latin America say there is an increasing realization in that area that communism not only is menacing governments in power, but the economic and social advancement of the hemisphere countires as well.

No longer, they feel, are Communists, either Cuban or local, considered merely a nuisance created by a few left wingers with chronic complaints against the established order.

The hemisphere observers say that the more reasonable conservative elements are powerful throughout Latin America and that forays of communist agitators, saboteurs and propagandists are now being recognized as costly, not only to day-to-day business operations, but to basic political and economic progress of their countries.

Argentine Example

The overthrow of Argentina's President Arturo Frondizi early in 1962, only a few weeks after Argentina sought to water down a denunciation of the Castro regime by other hemisphere nations is cited as an example of weariness with pro-Cuba policies.

Communist efforts at disturbing the peace and sabotage, such as have occurred in Venezuela, have come to be recognized as a force that might well get out of hand if not held in check.

New York Subway Strike Banned; Union Going Ahead

New York (AP)—A state supreme court justice Tuesday banned a strike of the New York City subways by the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union But the union shrugged off the edict and said the walkout still is scheduled.

"The catastrophic consequences of a strike by the members of the union warrant the intervention of a court of equity and the exercise of its process," said Justice Samuel H. Hotstadter, in issuing a restraining order against the TWU.

The union had set a strike deadline of 5 a.m. Wednesday, unless contract agreement was reached by the transit authority, which operates the subway lines. Such threats are part of the union's bargaining tactics. Never in its 26 year history has the TWU struck the subways.

Justice Hofstader's order obviously was intended to discourage the union from going through with its strike threat. However, TWU President Michael J. Quill announced in advance that any court order would be ignored by the union, even if its officers were put in jail.

The justice based his order on the state's Condon-Wadlin law, which prohibits strikes by public employes. However, the law rarely has been invoked in the past.

Requests For Tax Exemptions Pour Into Assessor's Office

Lancaster County Assessor Arthur Davis's office was flooded Tuesday with applications for tax exemption of property as provided in the law passed by the last session of the Legislature.

More were expected to be in his office Thursday since those postmarked before midnight Tuesday would be accepted.

The new law requires that all owners of property which might be declared tax exempt must file applications annually stating the use of the property to qualify for exemption that year.

Mostly Religious Groups

The majority of those filed to date are religious groups for churches, parsonages, education buildings and all other property used for religious purposes.

Other applications have been filed by fraternal groups, hospitals, cemeteries, American Legion clubs and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts, parochial schools and Union College and Nebraska Wesleyan.

Among those which may draw opposition to exemption are the Nebraska State Medical Association building, the Nebraska State Educational Association building, and the Red Poll Cattle Club of America at 3275 Holdrege.

Others which have requested exemption are:

Cedars Home for Children, Boy Scouts of America, Tabitha Home, Orthopedic Hospital, American Forward Association, YMCA, YWCA, Welfare Society, Inc., Rudge Memorial Home, Humane Society, Nursing Home at 2001 Vine, Lincoln Foundation, Isaac Walton Club House, St. Thomas Orphanage, Salvation Army, Madonna Home, Family Service, Elks Club, Lincoln Braille Club, Outreach Inc., 1521 O, The 1140 Club, Rokeby Community Club

Under the new law, Davis must by Feb. 1 recommend a decision to the county board of equalization which would make the determination of the tax-exempt status of the property.

The bill also gives the state tax commissioner the power to review and reverse any decision.

Finnish Girl's Curiosity About Guns Leads To Boy's Injury

Columbus (AP) — A 17-year-old foreign exchange student found out what happens when you pull the trigger on a police officer's gun.

Columbus Police Chief John Ingold said this is what happened:

Perko Tammivouri, a Finnish girl who lives with the Bill Nelson family, was attending a teenage dance at the city auditorium.

Explaining that police don't carry guns in Finland, she said she was curious about Officer Charles Thorin's revolver and asked what would happen if he pulled the trigger.

Thorin explained nothing would happen so long as the pistol was in his holster with a leather strap over the hammer.

The police chief said that when Thorin was not looking, Miss Tammivouri unsnapped the strap and started to pull the gun from the holster apparently to look at it. Thorin, feeling the gun being removed, pushed it back in its holster.

The gun fired and the bullet went through the bottom of the holster, left a hole in Thorin's trousers and struck a Columbus youth, Douglas Milbourne in the toe. Milbourne was hospitalized.

Ingold said the gun obviously was fired accidentally. He said there would be no charges.

Water Plans Here Receive Green Light

By The Associated Press

The $4.4 billion public works appropriation bill signed by President Johnson Tuesday provides funds for a number of Nebraska and related Missouri Basin projects.

Army Engineer projects include:

Construction—Gering Valley $650,000; Salt Creek and its tributaries, $4,200,000; and Clarkson $205,000, which is designated as eligible for selection as a small authorized project.

Sunday Rules For County Clubs Slated

Lancaster County Commissioners will determine next week whether bottle clubs in the county may open on Sunday.

The question was raised Tuesday when Boyd Waddle, representing the East Hills Country Club, appeared to ask permission for the club to remain open on Sunday.

The Commissioners had passed a resolution that the clubs outside the city limits but within the county could remain open Sunday as provided by the original bottle club law passed by the 1963 Legislature.

However, under the revised law passed in the special session of the Legislature, Sunday opening of bottle clubs became a local option.

In other business, the Board Tuesday granted an amusement license to permit dancing at Merle's Inc. Emerald Tavern.

Curtis Doesn't Think He'll Vote For Cut In Taxes

Omaha (AP) — Sen. Carl Curtis, Nebraska Republican, said Tuesday that he will support economies recommended by President Johnson but that he does not think they will be enough to induce him to support a tax cut.

Sen. Curtis said he would agree that taxes are too high, but holds they cannot be cut when it would mean putting the government deeper in debt.

He said he expected President Johnson to submit a budget in excess of $100 billion.

Sen. Curtis is a member of the Senate Tax-Writing Committee headed by Sen. Harry Byrd, Virginia Democrat, who has reportedly told President Johnson the committee will send a tax cut bill to the floor.

Floats Feature 'Ballet Legend'

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Miami Fla.—Everything from an orange elephant to midget autos gave an estimated 400,000 spectators a two-hour show in the King Orange parade here Tuesday night.

Another 40 million persons watched the mammoth March through downtown Miami on national television.

The weatherman cooperated Tuesday night by shutting off showers that had fallen intermittently during the day. The orange elephant and the midget cars were joined on the parade route by 50 floats, 25 bands, and 300 costumed marchers.

The University of Nebraska marching band was among the 25 bands participating in the parade. The Husker horn-tooters also will put on a halftime show in the Orange Bowl Wednesday.

Nebraska, Auburn and Miami were the only university bands represented, with the rest of the music supplied by high school musicians from Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana and Illinois.

More than 35,000 man-hours went into preparations for the parade and 15,000 light bulbs adorned the floats with power supplied by 350,000 watts of electricity—enough to light many a small Nebraska town. The theme for this year's parade was "Legend of the Ballet."

And the 10 major floats all portrayed a different ballet, from the opening float, "Scheherazade," to the final, "Swan Lake," which carried Orange Bowl Queen Jeanne Hefinger. Other ballets represented by floats were the "Nutcracker," Sylvia," "Polovtsian Dance," "Sleeping Beauty," "Le Tricorne," "Le Coqe'or," "Orpheus," and "Eurydice."

A scheduled appearance by Miss America, Donna Axum, was cancelled when she suffered a relapse from the effects of the Jacksonville, Fla., fire that took 22 lives the past weekend.

U.S. Cuts In Military Manpower Abroad Reach New Total Of 40,000

Washington (AP)— The cutback in U.S. military manpower abroad reached a new total of 40,000 Tuesday with announcement of plans to return several air units from Japan.

Still more pullback operations are to be expected, the Pentagon has disclosed, probably in the next several weeks. These will include the seven still-undesignated overseas installations to be shut down under the base reduction program announced by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara earlier this month.

McNamara insisted, however, that no reduction in ground forces' combat strength in Germany has been made or is planned. Approximately 31,000 Army men brought back from Germany during the past half year are essentially service-type personnel or specialists sent over at the outset of the Berlin crisis in 1961, the Pentagon says.

Mostly Air Force

The other military personnel to return under plans announced earlier and in the Tokyo announcement Monday night are mostly Air Force.

About 3,500 Air Force Personnel will leave Japan under the latest announced plan to bring back or deactivate some U.S. fighter and bomber units.

Another 2,600 men comprising personnel of B47 medium bomber units based in Britain are tabbed for return to the United States by next summer.

About 1,400 military personnel of two Air Force transport squadrons stationed in France are coming home.

In Tokyo, U.S. spokesman discussing the return of the airmen said that no cutbacks are planned among the 20,200 Army, Navy and Marine personnel based in Japan.

The withdrawal of personnel sent to Germany in the 1961 crisis leaves approximately 242,000 men in U.S. ground forces there.

About 1,000 U.S. mlitary men have returned from South Viet Nam. They were part of the 16,500 Army, Air Force and Marine personnel—with about 12,000 of them Army — sent there to help the Viet Nam government in its war against the Communists.

There have been rumors, persistently denied by U.S. officials, of a proposed cutback of strength in South Korea. There two Army divisions are deployed along the truce line alongside South Korean forces.

A Wedding In Texas

Of considerable interest to Lincoln this morning is the wedding of Mrs. Rogene Flansburg, daughter of Mrs. Victor Larsen of Central City, and Dr. Earle Bartlett Griffey of Brownsville, Tex., son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward W. Griffey of Houston, Tex., which took place at high noon on Tuesday, Dec. 31, at Rice University Chapel in Houston. The Rev. Mr. Dawson, chaplain at Rice University, solemnized the service.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Lee Tuttle of Houston, sister of the bridegroom, and William Brown of Durango, Mexico, served Dr. Griffey as best man.

For the ceremony the bride chose a silk and worsted suit in the dusty pink, with a brief coiffure veil in matching tone.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the River Oaks Country Club in Houston.

Dr. and Mrs. Griffey will honeymoon in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and upon their return to Brownsville will reside at 1144 Belthair.

Dr. Griffey was graduated from Sewanee Military Academy, Sewanee, Tenn., and from Rice University. He received his degree in medicine from the University of Chicago School of Medicine.

On Tuesday evening Dr. Griffey's parents entertained at a New Year's Eve party at their home when they honored their son and daughter-in-law, and when they also celebrated their own wedding anniversary.

COTNER TERRACE

Happy New Year, and a cordial welcome to 1964. Already some of us, including Cotner Terrace residents, are sitting down with a large tablet of paper and sharpened pencil to make our list of resolutions.

First on many lists will be the determination to housebreak the puppy the children got for Christmas; or take down the tree. For others, a post-holiday diet will be of main concern.

For just about everyone, the football game will take first place in today's activities, unless you happen to be bidding good-bye to some of the holiday guests who have been visiting in Cotner Terrace.

And speaking of guests, there were some at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Schellenberg during the Christmas holidays. They were Mrs. Schellenberg's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maxcey and their children, Beth Ann and Douglas, of Temple, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Belz combined a New Year's Eve celebration with their wedding anniversary, which is today. Their guests for a Tuesday evening party were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hart, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Torell.

Returning Sunday evening from Callaway were Mr. and Mrs. Magruder and their children, Ron, Greg, and Michele, who were Christmas guests of Mrs. Magruder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Schuster.

The holiday plans of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bills and their children, Cathy and John, included a trip to Atlantic, Iowa, there they were the guests of Mr. Bills' mother, Mrs. Vivian Bills.

The welcome mat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Montgomery and daughter Jean has really had a work-out during the holidays.

Their first guests were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds, and their children, David, Kimmy, and Jimmy of Denver.

Included on the guest list for Christmas dinner were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Montgomery and their children, Jeff and Julie, and Mrs. Montgomery's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Dally.

Then, this past weekend, visitors were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery of Kansas City, Mo.

In the midst of the holiday rush, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roller still found time for a family reunion, held at the home of Mrs. Roller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dormer.

Traveling the furthest distance was undoubtedly Mrs. Roller's brother, John Dormer Jr., who came from Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Other guests included Mrs. Dormer Jr., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Leybold; Mrs. Roller's brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Dormer of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dormer of La Vista; and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beetem.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ritenour celebrated New Year's Eve in the company of four other couples at the Nebraska Air National Guard Airmen's Club.

Their party included Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hawco, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vanourny, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cerveny.

Traveling from Creede, Colo., for the Christmas holiday was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seale. She was Mr. Seale's mother, Mrs. Hester Wilhelm, who spent a few days in Lincoln at the Seales' Cotner Terrace home.

Leaving Monday from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tetherow was Mr. Tetherow's mother, Mrs. D. N. Tetherow, who has been in Lincoln since Dec. 24.

A family get-together was held at the Tetherow home recently, and guests included Mrs. Tetherow's brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts of Craig, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Roberts of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Tetherow's mother, Mrs. Elsie Roberts of Fremont; and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ballou of Ashland.

CASINO HEIGHTS

Out-of-town guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mancuso and their children, Bobby, Joey, and Michael, were Mrs. Mancuso's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hanson and their daughter Karen with her friend, Doug, of Sloane, Iowa. Their visitors were in the Lincoln area for two days before leaving on Christmas Day.

On Christmas Day, the Mancuso family motored to Omaha, where they were the guests of Mr. Mancuso's mother, Mrs. Louise Mancuso. Mr. and Mrs. Mancuso and the children attended a family get-together before returning home on Thursday.

Dear Abby

Practice Your Footwork

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: During a disagreement, my husband broke my nose and gave me two black eyes and I couldn't go to a family Christmas get-together because I didn't want my people to see me looking like that. He's really not a bad guy, Abby. He's a steady worker, drinks only on week-ends, and he's good to the kids. But when he loses his temper, I'm the one who gets it in the neck. Don't tell me to leave him because I've tried it and I'm the one who crawls back. I love this guy, but I need a few pointers on how to keep him from slapping me around.

SLAP HAPPY

DEAR HAPPY: Any woman who gets "slapped around" more than once either figures she has it coming, or she likes it. Practice your foot work and learn to duck.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What time do you think an eleven-year-old girl should go to bed? This will settle an argument between my mother and me.

THE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: She should go to bed whenever her mother says she should. And THAT should settle the argument.

Opening lead — ten of diamonds.

"What can defeat me? is a question every declarer should ask himself whenever there is the slightest possibility of defeat. If the answer is that certain distributions of the opponents' cards would place the contract in jeopardy, the declarer should next look for a method of play that can overcome bad distribution if it exists.

For example, take this hand where South is in six spades. On the surface — without seeing the East-West cards — it seems as though declarer should make 12 or 13 tricks with ease.

Undoubtedly, that is what the result would be in the overwhelming majority of hands — since the adverse spades and hearts would be divided either 2-2 or 3-1 most of the time.

But South has no right to assume that either or both suits will break favorably, and he should therefore make allowance from the start for the possibility of a 4-0 division in either suit.

Accordingly, he takes the ace of diamonds and then discards a diamond on the ace of clubs. He must obviously lead trumps next. Since he has no way of avoiding a trump loser if either opponent has all the missing trumps, he starts to draw trumps by cashing first the ace and then the queen.

When it turns out that the spades are divided 2-2, South's only remaining concern is a 4-0 heart break. He cannot protect against a bad division if West has the four missing hearts, so he proceeds on the basis that East might have all four.

He leads a heart from dummy and plays low from his hand if East follows low. When West shows out, South then makes the slam after conceding a heart rick. Note that declarer would go down if he failed to play this way.

If East produces the ten on the first heart lead, South takes the king and returns a low heart after West shows out. He is then in a position to trap East's queen later by leading a heart from dummy.

WHY GROW OLD?

Josephine Lowman

There are four characteristics which are important if a woman is to be successful as a wife or a career woman. Fine health is a great asset. Without it, either role is doubly difficult.

A reasonable amount of intelligence is an essential. A good disposition is a downright necessity. Nothing oils the wheels of home-life in quite the same way and nothing sets the whole family on its ear like a fit of temper from the lady of the house.

No boss is going to play nursemaid for long to injured feelings, sensitiveness or irritability. Graciousness, the desire to please and an unruffled disposition, are at a premium in the home or in the office.

Good looks is not a necessity but it helps. Good grooming, good taste in clothes and what to wear when are essentials. The busy woman often has a difficult time working all of the important beauty routines into her day. The woman who is in an office most of the day may find it hard to work in an exercise period.

There are exercises you take when you have an opportunity during the day which will count up to a big total. For instance, nobody even knows it if you pull your abdomen in toward your backbone while you sit at your desk. Hold the muscles in this position for a short time. Relax and continue. You can do this at interval during the day. This is a splendid abdominal exercise. Of course you should always sit with your spine straight and your hips well back in the chair.

You can do the following exercise while sitting at your desk when no one is noticing, or even if they are for that matter. While sitting in your chair straighten your right leg out in front of you, pointing your right toe hard. Return leg to place. Straighten your left leg out in front of you. Return to place. Do this slowly. It is restful and relieves pressure on blood vessels temporarily.

56 New Firms Will Provide Employment For 800 In Nebraska

By WILLIAM B. KETTER
United Press International

Fifty-six new firms are either in operation or are building facilities that will employ more than 800 people in Nebraska during 1964, according to the annual report of the Nebraska Resources Division.

The report, released Wednesday, also said that during 1963 more than 100 existing Nebraska industries announced or carried out expansion programs.

The report said the division is continuing to experience more activity in the field of industrial development. But it added:

"While it is evident that Nebraska is making steady progress in broadening its industrial horizons, we are fully cognizant that painstaking work in this direction must be continued for an extended period of time before Nebraska will reap a major harvest."

In 1963 the division concentrated on procurement of industrial payrolls for Nebraska, assisting expansion of existing industries and helping the industrial organizations and cities in preparing for industrial development, the report said.

Other Projects

Although these were the main projects of the division headed by David Osterhout of Lincoln, the report said they were by no means the full program.

The division has also engaged in development of community services program, urban planning, industrial clinics, community surveys, advertising and cooperating with State Agricultural Director Pearle F. Finigan in finding new industrial uses for agricultural products.

We recognize that a few large industrial establishments have come to Nebraska during the past year," Osterhout commented. "Although we certainly will continue actively to seek more of the king-size variety, we also know that mighty industries often grow from small beginnings when given time and diligent cultivation."

Osterhout said the division is especially encouraged by the large number of Nebraska firms that are expanding their operations. He said this is essential to assist existing industries.

In a personal pleading, Osterhout called on "all Nebraskans" to help boost the state's economy by supporting local industries, using Nebraska products and being constantly on the lookout for new businesses that might locate in the state.

Bond Issues

The report noted that six revenue bond issues were granted under the three-year-old Industrial Development Act during 1963, bringing the total number of such projects since enactment of the act to nine. The bonds were issued by the cities of Gordon, Lincoln, Auburn, Blair and Norfolk and by Gage County.

Total aggregate principal of the bonds was $4,110,400.

The division completed 15 more community surveys for Nebraska towns in 1963 and initiated five others. Nearly all Nebraska towns of 1,000 population or more now have been surveyed through the combined efforts of the division, Consumers Public Power District and the Omaha Public Power District.

Towns surveyed during the past year were Alliance, Auburn, Benkelman, Brady, Falls City, Holdrege, Lexington, McCook, Ord, Randolph, Sidney, South Sioux City, Stromsburg, Sutherland and Syracuse.

The surveys are used to inform the city of the opportunities to secure industry, to give the division information to sell the city to industrial prospects and to provide companies with information on a particular city.

Attitude Surveys

Three community attitude surveys, which reflect opinions of local citizens regarding their towns, were completed during the year. Towns included Kimball, North Platte and Blair.

In their search for new industry, Resources Division personnel attended nine national industrial shows and expositions during 1963. Nearly 500 personal calls were made urging industrialists to consider Nebraska.

The report said the advertising program of the division has been running about the same level as previous years, with some 30,000 letters being mailed to the nation's top manufacturing firms.

The report noted the first annual Nebraska Community Betterment Contest, with 97 communities participating, was held during 1963. Awards went to Battle Creek, Ainsworth, Fairbury, Sidney, Henderson, Red Clud, Gering, Grand Island, Winnebago, Minden, Superior and McCook for outstanding community improvements.

The division distributed four federal funds grants for community planning during the year. They went to O'Neill, $8,810; Gothenburg, Papillion and York, $42,570; Alliance, $14,734, and Minden, $7,434.

Following are the new firms announcing building plans during 1963, listing location, type of industry and number of employes:

Oswald, Walker Shot Linked

Dallas (AP)— Lee Harvey Oswald's widow has confirmed that her husband told her he was implicated in the shooting at former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, her business adviser said Tuesday.

Mrs. Marina Oswald also confirmed a report that Oswald left her a note of instructions the day a sniper shot at Walker. Oswald's note said he might be arrested.

Jim Martin, the business adviser, said she gave the following account of what happened, last April 10, the day a high-powered rifle bullet barely missed Walker in his home:

Oswald left home early in the evening, not saying where he was going. He hadn't returned at 11 p.m., and Mrs. Oswald began to worry.

Then she discovered a note from her husband, written in Russian, in her bedroom. Oswald's note said he might be gone for some time, or he might be arrested. It told her the location of the county jail in Dallas, and gave the number of Oswald's Post Office Box, along with the key.

It said he was expecting a check from a former employer (apparently a coffee company in New Orleans where Oswald worked before coming to Dallas), and advised her how to get in touch with the Soviet consul.

Oswald finally returned, very late. He was white and shaken.

Under questioning from his wife, he said he was involved in an attempt to shoot Walker.

After an all-night argument, he promised he never would do such a thing again. Mrs. Oswald told him she had hidden the note and would turn it over to the police if he ever failed to keep his promise.

She had secreted the note in a cookbook. The FBI took possession of it shortly after Oswald was arrested Nov. 22.

Martin said Tuesday that Mrs. Oswald believes her husband was just sick, "something was wrong with him."

The shot was fired through a window of Walker's home. The bullet narrowly missed Walker and imbedded itself movement of Walker's head in a wall. Police said a slight possibly saved his life. He suffered minor cuts from fragments of the window.

Philadelphia Court Refuses To Ban Blackface Marchers

Philadelphia (AP) — Common Pleas Court denied Tuesday a request for an injunction banning blackface marchers from the New Year's Day Mummers Parade, leaving open the possibility that the parade will be physically blocked by civil rights groups.

The hearing was called on a petition seeking the writ by Curtis C. Carson, chairman of the Legal Redress Committee of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Judge Theodore L. Reimel denied the injunction, which would have lifted permits of all marchers and cancelled the annual spectacle. The judge said that city officials have promised the parade will be "in no way offensive to our citizens."

Two civil rights groups, the Committee for Freedom Now of Chester, Pa., and the Congress of Racial Equality, threatened to block the parade if marchers wearing blackface makeup were permitted.

A record 1,800 policemen have been assigned to the parade, 1,500 of them uniformed.

Catholic, Orthodox Heads Plan To Meet Twice

Vatican City (AP) — Pope Paul VI and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I plan two meetings in the Holy Land, unofficial Vatican sources said Tuesday.

There were varying versions of the dates and sites.

The informants agreed, however, that the first meeting and perhaps both will be held at the Mount of Olives in old Jerusalem, where Christ prayed before His Crucifixion. Some believed the second meeting may be at Bethlehem, Christ's birthplace.

Official Vatican spokesmen had no details on that phase of the pilgrimages this weekend by the Roman Catholic pontiff and the spiritual leader of the Orthdox, whose churches together have 700 million members.

The unofficial sources said the Pope and patriarch will meet Saturday or Sunday night and again Monday, the Roman Catholic Feast of the Ephiphany and Christmas Eve for the Orthodox in Jerusalem.

500 Yards

Pope Paul and Patriarch Athenagoras of Constantinople (Istanbul) will be staying in dwellings just 500 yards apart on the Mount of Olives. Patriarch Athenagoras will be a guest at the summer residence of Jerusalem Patriarch Benedictos there. The lodgings of Pope Paul will be in the Roman Catholic apostolic delegation on the same hill. The patriarch is going to the Holy Land Friday, the Pope Saturday.

The last time a pope and a patriarch met was in the 15th century, when Patriarch Joseph of Constantinople, attended the Council of Florence and saw Pope Eugene IV. The East-West church split become final a few years later, in 1472.

The only official statement so far on the meeting between the two church leaders came Monday from Istanbul. The Orthodox Patriarchate there said simply that Athenagoras and Paul would meet on the Mount of Olives.

Sources here said there might be full-scale talks, or perhaps only prayers together.

Encounter

The first encounter might be the night of Jan. 4 in the Garden of Gethsemane at the foot of the Mount of Olives. Or it might be the next night on the Mount at the apostolic delegation, upon the pontiff's return to Jerusalem from a tour of holy sites in Israel.

The second meeting Jan. 6 could be a prayer meeting in Bethlehem, where the Pope is to deliver a major address, or a return visit by the Pope to Patriarch Athenagoras' quarters at the summer residence of the Jerusalem Orthodox Patriarchate.

All the sources here indicated that the first visit would be from the patriarch to the Pope. The Orthodox do not recognize the supreme authority that the papacy claims over the Catholic Church, but many grant a primacy of honor to a pontiff. One of the Pope's titles is Patriarch of the West.

Pope Paul's regular weekly general audience of Wednesday was canceled because Wednesday is the major Feastday of the Circumcision—New Year's Day.

Vatican sources said he will begin a period of intense prayer to prepare for his trip.

Little Beauties And Beast

Deodatus, a rare miniature Sicilian donkey donated to the San Francisco Zoo, was delightfully greeted on his arrival by three little girls: Helen Murphy, Mary Murphy and Elaine Collins, from left. The long eared Lilliputian is 1½ years old and stands 34 inches high. He was born in Oakland's Fairyland across the bay from San Francisco.

PLEA FOR HELP SMUGGLED OUT

West Yarmouth, Mass. (UPI)—Workers putting 1964 license plates on state trucks found the following message written on a piece of cardboard in an envelope carrying two of the plates:

"Send help quick; am being held against my will."

The plates are manufactured at Walpole State Prison.

Top Liar Proves Why

Burlington, Wis. (AP) — The Burlington Liars Club named as 1963's World Champion Liar Tuesday one Richard K. Burlin of Chatham, Mass., and the Cape Cod fisherman promptly proved his triumph was no fluke.

It was very nice, he told a newsman in Chatham expansively, to be named the world champion again, especially after winning the title twice before.

This drew from Otis C. Hulett, supreme life master of the world's liars at Burlington, the admiring comment, "I knew we picked a real winner."

Careful There . . .

For despite Burlin's casual claim, no one has ever won the gold-plated, diamond-studded — careful there — Burlington medal twice, not to mention three times, in its 35-year history.

The 64-year-old Burlin's prize-winning prevarication had, according to Hulett, all the casual artistry of the master liar.

"Fishing around here," Burling wrote, "was so bad sometimes this summer that even the biggest liars didn't catch any."

With the championship safely won, he added a few words of advice Tuesday for fledgeling fibbers.

"To be a good liar," he said, "one must be born to the pursuit, and then acquire additional training."

Beneficial

He gave credit for early practice to a neighbor at his old homestead in Worcester, Mass., but noted he had been removed from this beneficial influence at a tender age, when his family went to Cape Cod for a summer vacation and had to stay there permanently because train service was abandoned.

Burlin also added, before his interviewer could escape, that he once had an uncle "who drank so much even his shadow had the hiccoughs," but he didn't discuss the relationship, if any, between this remarkable occurence and his own latter day fame.

The Burlington medal, which by the way appears to the naked eye to be a brass pin decorated with a large glass chip, is Burlin's to keep forever, as the Liars Club has, or until the end of 1964, whichever comes first.

"It's a traveling medal," Hulett said indignantly, "We can't be buying diamonds like that every year."

MANDY WANTS TO PLAY FANNY

London (UPI) — Blonde playgirl Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies tried to drum up some publicity for her forthcoming memoirs Tuesday night by announcing that she wants to play the title role in a movie based on the notorious 18th Century novel "Fanny Hill."

Miss Rice-Davies, 19, was one of the central figures in Britain's sex-and-security scandal which disgraced war minister John Profumo and Christine Keeler.

Mandy has signed on as a member of the cast for the movie, to be made in France. "Fanny Hill," subtitled "Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure," has been banned as obscene in Britain.

Mandy said her book contains the memoirs of her own life and loves as a 20th Century Fanny Hill.

Red Bread Grain Harvest Down 25%

Washington (AP) — The Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) estimated Tuesday that the bread grain harvest in the Soviet Union in 1963 was down nearly 25% from 1962 and from the 1955-59 average.

It had been apparent for some time that the Soviet wheat and rye crops had been curtailed by unfavorable weather. The first indication of this came in September when the Soviet Union turned to Canada for supplies and approached this country for additional grain.

The Soviet wheat crop was estimated at 1.5 billion bushels, compared with two billion in 1962 and 1.9 billion for the five-year average. That country's rye crop was estimated at 475 million bushels, the smallest since the 1940s. The 1962 rye crop was 540 million and the five-year average was 575 million.

FAS, in its first 1963 estimate on world production of bread grains, put the 1963 total world production of wheat at 8,240,000,000 bushels. In September, the agency had forecast world production at 8,325,000,000. Tuesday's lower estimate reflected a smaller Soviet crop than was expected three months ago. The new estimate of world production compared with 1962's record high of 8,730,000,000 bushels and the five-year average of 7,955,000,000. World rye production was put at 1,165,000,000 bushels compared with 1,245,000,000 for 1962 and 1,440,000,000 for the five-year average.

As yet, the Soviet Union has bought no American grain. However, the grain trade has been authorized by the government to make commercial sales to the European communist countries.

Soviet purchases of grain and flour from Canada are equivalent to about 240 million bushels. There have been official reports the Soviets were interested in buying upwards of 200 million bushels from this country if suitable terms could be arranged.

In discussing world production, the FAS had this to say about Soviet production:

"Grain production in the Soviet Union was reduced sharply by unfavorable growing and harvesting weather. Wheat production is indicated to be 25% less than in 1962. Unfavorable weather in both the winter and spring wheat areas reduced yields. This was expecially true over a good part of the grain wheat region where yields were very low."

Administration Officials Brief Former President

Independence, Mo. (AP) — Four administration officials sent here by President Lyndon B. Johnson met with former President Harry S. Truman Tuesday to give him a report on world and domestic affairs.

The move is part of a policy of the President to keep former presidents advised and to seek their counsel on domestic and world affairs.

The men flew to Kansas City from Washington in an Air Force jet transport and went directly to the Truman Library in Independence for the session with Truman.

Members of the party are Charles Murphy, undersecretary of agriculture and a former Truman aide; Gen. Marshall Carter, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency; Elmer Staats, deputy director of the Budget Bureau, and Michael Forrestal, a staff member of the National Security Council.

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, is planning a similar meeting with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Asked about the conference, Truman said:

"Anything that comes out of this meeting will come from the President, not me."

Budget Approved

Algeria (AP) — The Algerian national assembly approved a 1964 budget of about $526 million.

Bulgarian Diplomat Gets Death Sentence

Vienna (UPI) A Communist court in Sofia Tuesday sentenced a pleasure-loving former Bulgarian diplomat to death before the firing squad for his confessed seven-year spying for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The suave and handsome diplomat, Ivanasen Georgiev, 56, served for five years as counsellor of the Bulgarian mission to the United Nations. He testified that the CIA flew in mistresses for him from Europe and later supplied him with women for two years in Europe.

The Bulgarian news agency BTA which reported the death sentence said there was no right of appeal: His property —the remnant of $200,000 he said was paid him by the CIA —was confiscated and all his rights were taken away "forever."

There was no indication when the court's decision would be carried out. Usually the executions are carried out swiftly and secretly and announced afterwards.

Georgiev's trial and a violent anti-American demonstration in Sofia last Friday have brought relations between the United States and Bulgaria to a new low. Some State Department sources theorized the two events may have been staged because the cold war thaw was turning some Bulgarians toward the United States.

Georgiev looked pale and tired after nearly four months of imprisonment, Bulgarian news media reported. He readily confessed working for the CIA when his trial opened last Thursday and his defense said the evidence was irrefutable.

"I beg you to give me the heaviest penalty," Georgiev was quoted by Sofia radio. "I am ready to accept it because I have committed the greatest crime that can be committed."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. HUGE HUSKERS MEET SPEEDY TIGERS

. . . Devaney's Troops Must Stop Double-Threat Auburn Quarterback

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Miami, Fla.—Nebraska, winless in two bowl appearances B.D. (Before Devaney), will be going after its second victory in as many appearances under coach Bob Devaney here this afternoon against Auburn in the 30th Annual Orange Bowl Game.

Auburn is rated a one-point favorite here with the edge based mainly on the Tigers' speed. But Nebraska coaches and players are confident that you can be both big and fast.

The Huskers are big, no one denies that. But here in the South, where football players come lean and mean, it is hard for Southern observers to believe that a football player can be both big and fast at the same time, especially when they are as big as the scarlet clad Nebraskans.

Nebraska will have a 14-pound per man weight advantage and most of the Auburn heft is in the backfield. But the Huskers only loss this season came against a team that was badly outweighed when the Air Force whipped NU, 17-13.

Double-Threat

Auburn presents a double-threat quarterback in Jimmy Sidle, whom Devaney compares to Missouri's Gary Lane "only better."

Sidle is the main cog in the Auburn I Formation attack as the 6-2, 205-pound junior came within 11 yards of being the only quarterback in history to win the national rushing title.

Sidle gained 1,006 yards as he led Aururn to a 9-1 record, a mark matched by Nebraska. And the Auburn signal-caller isn't just a ball-toter.

His completion percentage is not outstanding. In fact at 38% it isn't even good, but the big quarterback threw the ball for 706 yards and puts the pigskin in the air enough to keep the defenses honest.

Speed

Auburn bases everything on speed. "They get the ball outside on you so quick that it renders the blitz—the all-out rush—amost useless," Florida defensive coach Gene Ellenson says. "When you get there, there's nothing left to grab but air."

Both Nebraska and Auburn have achieved the 9-1 records by staying on the ground and a great deal of running can be expected from both squads—a rare treat for football fans here who have watched nothing but George Mira passes for three years at the University of Miami.

Devenay's infantry corps snared the national title for rushing with 2,624 yards and added 850 through the air for a total offense figure of 3,474 yards.

The Huskers ran the ball 82% of their plays and held the upper hand in ball control all season with touchdown marches covering 75, 80 and 85 yards in time-consuming marches.

Huge Husker Line

Ten Husker backs rushed for more than 100 yards during the season behind a huge line anchored by All-American guard Bob Brown and tackle Lloyd Voss with help from such as John Kirby, Larry Kramer, Ron Michka, Monte Kiffin, Bob Jones, John Dervin and Lyle Sittler.

Nebraska had lost both bowl appearances before Devaney took over the Husker helm . Stanford topped the Huskers in the 1941 Rose Bowl game and the Scarlet and Cream were humiliated in 1955 by Duke here at the Orange Bowl.

But in his first year at the helm, Devaney took his gridders to a 36-34 win over Miami in the Gotham Bowl at New York City.

Today, with the temperature about 60 degrees warmer than the 15 that the Gotham Bowl was played in, and with a $100,000 insurance policy in his pocket, Devaney will send the Scarlet and Cream gridders after a second striaght bowl win.

The Orange Bowl field was covered during the rains that fell in Miami Monday night and most of the day Tuesday. The showers stopped Tuesday night but the weatherman says they may fall again early Wednesday morning.

However, fair skies are predicted for kick-off time at 1 p.m. (CST) Wednesday.

Sellout Crowd

A sellout crowd of 72,000 will watch the action from the Orange Bowl here and millions more will see the game via television.

The sold out sign went up here Saturday, the earliest sellout in the bowl's 30-year history. Helping to swell the gate are 14,000 Auburn fans and another 8,500 from Nebraska as the two schools combined to pour more fans into this resort city than for any previous Orange Bowl contest.

Auburn's total is a record for one school and Nebraska's following is second only to the 11,000 that followed Oklahoma here for the 1956 game against Maryland.

The last Big Eight victory in the Orange Bowl came three years ago when Missouri bopped Navy, 21-14. Two years ago, Colorado dropped a 25-7 decision to LSU and last year Alabama blanked Oklahoma, 17-0.

The Big Eight contract with the Orange Bowl expires with this game and there is much speculation here both ways on whether or not the pact will be renewed.

—IN BOWL CONTESTS—

Nationally Ranked Clubs Clash Today

By Associated Press

The tickets have been sold and the coaches' tears have been shed and now eight fine college football teams — all but one ranked among the national Top Ten in the regular season — are ready for the New Year's Day bowl games.

Two teams, Navy and Washington, have reported player injuries that might hamper their offensive efforts Wednesday, but until the games actually start, it won't be known whether the coaches have exaggerated these reports for psychological reasons. At any rate, all eight coaches have virtually guaranteed all-out offensive shows for the 330,000 fans who are expected to pack the stadiums at Dallas, Miami, New Orleans and Pasadena, Calif.

Here is the line-up, with season records, national rankings, expected attendance and television coverage (Central Standard Time):

COTTON BOWL — Texas, 10-0 and No. 1 vs. Navy, 9-1, No. 2, 75,504 CBS 12:45 p.m.

ORANGE BOWL— Auburn, 9-1, No. 5, vs. Nebraska No. 6 ABC, 72,600, 12:45 p.m.

ROSE BOWL — Illinois, 7-1-1, No. 3, vs. Washington, 6-4, unranked, 100,000, NBC 3:45 p.m.

SUGAR BOWL —Mississippi, 7-0-2, No. 7, vs. Alabama, 8-2, No. 8, 82,500, NBC 12:45 p.m.

Although an injury to fullback Pat Donnelly may have dimmed Navy's chances of jolting Texas, the Cotton Bowl promoters figure they still have the best attraction in the game's 28 years. It is the first Dallas match-up of the No. 1 and No. 2 teams and Navy is eager to show the voters were wrong when they made Texas the 1963 national champion.

Donnelly, who is Navy's leading rusher and a favorite pass target for quarterback Roger Staubach, the great scrambler, suffered a pulled hamstring muscle in his left thigh Sunday.

Coach Wayne Hardin has said Donnelly likely will start and continue as long as he is able. That is because the No. 2 fullback, Nick Markoff, has been troubled by a similar injury. Texas coach Darrell Royal said he won't know until game time whether center and co-captain David McWilliams will be available. He was called home because of the death of his mother.

Washington's injured man, fullback Junior Coffey, has been hobbling about on a bad foot for some time. While he may play some, Coach Jim Owens insists that the fans in the Rose Bowl will see a lot of Charlie Browning and Mike Kuklenki, his replacements.

Washington's 6-4 record is a poor one for a bowl team and Illinois Coach Pete Elliott has been careful to guard against overconfidence in his team, which has had little chance for outdoor practice. The Illini are at full strength although guard Glynn Stewart has a sore shoulder and linebacker Don Hansen has just recovered from a sprained ankle.

The Orange Bowl and Sugar Bowl teams haven't reported any injuries of importance. The Auburn-Nebraska game at Miami promises a duel between two quarterbacks who excel at pass-run option plays. Jimmy Sidle of Auburn and Dennis Claridge of Nebraska. Auburn is counting on Sidle's deception and daring to offset Nebraska's superior size.

The Sugar Bowl coaches, Johnny Vaught of Mississippi and Bear Bryant of Alabama, expect their teams to rely mainly on passes to score. Bama's quarterbacks, Steve Sloan and Jack Hurlbert, threw only 16 passes during the regular season while Mississippi's Perry Lee Dunn and Jim Weatherly completed 103. But the Alabama pair didn't get much chance until Joe Namath, the regular quarterback, was suspended late in the season for disciplinary reasons.

A Pro's Eye View

Miami, Fla.—Ever wonder what a professional football team does on Sunday afternoon when they aren't playing? They spend it just like you or I— in front of the tube if there's a pro game to watch.

And that's just where the Green Bay Packers, who are sharing the Ivanhoe Hotel with Nebraska's Cornhuskers here, spent the afternoon Sunday as the Chicago Bears won the NFL Championship over the New York Giants.

The Packers were well-acquainted with the tactics used by the Bears to gain their 14-10 win so it was not surprising to the Green Bay players when the Bears came up on the long end.

Jim Taylor, the Packers crunching fullback who spent two dismal afternoons trying to keep the Bear defenders away from Green Bay quarterbacks recalled those afternoons as he watched the Bears charging linemen dump Giants' quarterback Y. A. Tittle on his back.

"It's tough to complete a pass when you have two or three of those monsters pawing at you all afternoon," Taylor noted. "That's how the Bears beat us twice."

Taylor's team is here to prepare for their pro playoff bowl assignment against the Cleveland Browns in the Orange Bowl Stadium Sunday.

Not Cordial To Passers

The Green Bay fullback pointed out that Chicago's defensive linemen are not noted for their hospitality to rival quarterbacks.

"They really like to get that passer," Taylor said. "They hurried Bart Starr just like they hustled Tittle Sunday. He had to throw the ball before his receivers had time to turn around.

"In fact, both teams had a good rush on. The percentage of passes completed was bad on both sides. Then, too," Taylor added, "the Giants gave the ball away too many times on fumbles and interceptions. You can't do that and win. It was the Bears' day."

Still Feeling Sting

Taylor feels the attitude of the Packers toward Sunday's runner-up game is good, even though he notes they are still feeling the sting of losing the National League championship after a two-year reign.

"The momentum will pick up as the game draws closer," Taylor remarked. "Then, too, there's a certain amount of pride connected to this sort of thing. You can't let up in any kind of football game. Next thing you know you're on a stretcher asking what day it is."

Then, noting the sunny 75-degree weather outside his hotel window, Taylor smiled and commented, "While watching the game and knowing how cold it can get up there, I get a little less envious of those guys playing for all that money."

But from the tone of his voice you knew the big fullback didn't really mean that final statement.

Grid Fever At All-Time Peak

. . . AMONG STATE FANS

By BILL KETTER
United Press International

Nebraskans lifted their glasses high last night in toast to the Cornhusker football team.

The toast was both timely and appropriate because at 1 p.m. this New Year's Day, Nebraska will meet Auburn in the annual Orange Bowl grid classic.

More than 7,000 faithful will be on hand in Miami to cheer the team on to victory. But thousands more are at home and will view the game on television or listen to it on radio.

In an attempt to get an impression of the intense football fever that has gripped the state during the last week, this reporter conducted telephone interviews with six weekly newspaper editors in all reaches of the state.

TV Pools

All six reported fan interest is at an all-time high and that many television pool arrangements are scheduled so that all will see the game.

Bob Morris of the Wymore Arbor State said a group of fans in his city are prepared to motor to Beatrice if television reception in Wymore falters.

Morris also said he personally feels Auburn will win but that he is one of those having a difficult time getting his colleagues to agree.

Should Morris prove correct, he stands to win a few bets.

Sums Up Feeling

Probably Alton Wilhelms of the Stromsburg Headlight best summed up the general feeling of Nebraskans with this comment:

"Football mad is the reaction here. I would say the University of Nebraska team has been getting more support from this town this season than ever before."

Wilhelms said most bettors in the Stromsburg area are picking Nebraska by seven points, a few giving as much as 10 points.

Amazing Interest

Bill Greenlee, Jr., Oshkosh, of the Garden County News called "amazing" fan interest in his area. He said he's never seen so much interest in a football game before.

Most Garden County fans, he added, are selecting Nebraska by eight points.

Gamblers in western Nebraska can't seem to find anyone taking Auburn, said Bob Pinkerton, Kimball, of the Western Nebraska Observer.

Even Up

"They just can't seem to find anyone who likes Auburn," he said. "I've heard some are giving a touchdown but generally the bets are even up."

Mrs. Jennie Cox of the Arapahoe Public Mirror said Furnas County fans are also picking Nebraska to win. She said little else but the game is being discussed in Arapahoe.

Henry Trysla, South Sioux City, of the Dakota County Star said most fans in the northeast region of the state favor the Cornhuskers, but that the betting set is considering the game a tossup.

Lakers Increase West NBA Lead

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers celebrated New Year's Eve Tuesday night by handing St. Louis its fourth straight defeat, 132-119, in a National Basketball Association game at the Sports Arena.

The Hawks are Los Angeles' closest pursuer in the Western Division but are now 3½ games behind.

MIAMI TRACK MEET RESET

Miami (AP)—Another attempt to stage the first annual Orange Bowl track and field meet will be made Wednesday.

Starting time will be 8:30 a.m. CST, some 4½ hours before the Orange Bowl football game.

A day-long rainfall put the track under water Monday and it was still pouring at meet time. Although conditions were obviously impossible, Orange Bowl officials did not announce a postponement until about 400 die-hard fans were at the track and the athletes had suited up.

Pumps were used Tuesday to drain the track. The Weather Bureau predicted clearing and cooler weather by Tuesday night.

Oregon Wins Sun Bowl, 21-14

. . . FLU HITS SMU PLAYERS

El Paso, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Bob Berry passed for two touchdowns, leading Oregon to a 21-14 Sun Bowl victory over a Southern Methodist football team stricken with intestinal disorders a few hours before Tuesday's game.

Oregon built a 21-0 halftime lead on Dennis Keller's nine-yard touchdown run and a pair of scoring passes by Berry in the second quarter, 23 yards to Dick Imwalle and 20 yards to Paul Burleson.

The Mustangs were unable to penetrate the Duck defense until the final quarter.

Oregon received its first scoring opportunity early in the first quarter when H. D. Murphy intercepted an SMU pass on his own 30 and rambled 49 yards to the Mustang 21. Keller eventually went up the middle for the final nine yards on a trap play.

Buck Corey had to kick the conversion from the 18 after a holding penalty set Oregon back.

The second quarter belonged to Berry, who struck overland late in the quarter to give Oregon a commanding 21-0 lead. SMU could put together only one sustained drive, moving to the Oregon 17 before time ran out.

Neither team was able to score in the third quarter, but SMU drove to the Oregon two before the Ducks checked the march. Oregon, meanwhile, was unable to get out of its own territory, and the momentum seemed to have passed to SMU.

As soon as the fourth quarter got under way SMU struck with fleet John Roderick, a sprinter on the track team who played a key role in the Mustangs early season upset of Navy, hauling in a pair of touch down passes.

Danny Thomas flipped Roderick a three-yarder and then grabbed a seven-yard toss from Mac White. White then ran over for a two-point conversion and SMU was back in the ball game.

But just as it appeared the Mustangs might be ready to pull it out, the tide turned. SMU tried an onside kick with 24 seconds to play, and apparently had the ball well covered, but it skittered out of bounds.

SMU's sports publicity director, Les Jordan, said several members of the squad had become nauseated or had been stricken with diarrhea during the night. Some of the players had recovered, he said, but others started getting sick Tuesday morning.

A team of three doctors, who had been with the team since Monday night, said a noon meal Monday might have been the cause.

Husker Linemen Defense Starters

Mobile, Ala. (AP)—Sleet, snow and chilling rain forced the North and South squads indoors Tuesday and washed out scheduled work on pass patterns and wide plays for Saturday's 15th annual Senior Bowl All-Star football game.

Signal drills were conducted by both North Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions and South Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys

Wilson named four men averaging 246 pounds as his probable defensive line starters.

They were Buffalo's Gerald Philbin and Muskingum College's Roger LaLonde, ends; and Pacific University's Don Shackleford and Nebraska's Lloyd Voss, tackles.

Wilson picked Boston University's Bill Budness for the middle linebacker, and Kansas' Ken Coleman and Nebraska's John Kirby at the outside spots.

Omaha Knights Nip Braves, 4-3

Omaha (AP) — Omaha, the Central professional Hockey League leader, scored two goals in 16 seconds Tuesday night to defeat St. Louis, 4-3. Bob Courcy got the tying goal at 13:57 and Tom Carty the go ahead goal in the third period.

Doug Senior, who had to leave the ice in the second period with an ankle cut, got an assist on both goals.

Kentucky Tops Duke For Title

New Orleans (AP) — A 10-foot set shot by 6-foot-2 Terry Mobley with seven seconds left gave top-ranked Kentucky an 81-79 victory over Duke and the championship of the Sugar Bowl Basketball Tournament Tuesday.

Kentucky, after stealing the ball with less than one minute left, called time out to set its offense.

When play resumed, Randy Embry dribbled for almost one minute before feeding the ball to Mobley whose shot hit the backboard and fell into the basket.

Warriors Thump New York, 101-79

New York (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors, playing without No. 2 scorer Guy Rodgers, walloped the New York Knicks 101-79 in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday on the 42-point effort of Wilt Chamberlain.

The Knicks led 20-14 at the end of the first quarter, but Chamberlain and Al Attles pulled the Warriors out front in the second period and they built a 45-40 halftime edge. Chamberlain broke the last tie, putting San Francisco ahead 34-32.

Giants Just Considered Looney's Legs, 224 Lbs.

. . . NOT HIS ATTITUDE

New York (AP)— The New York Giants had just signed their No. 1 draft pick, Joe Don Looney, the bad boy of Oklahoma football.

Vice President Wellington Mara was prodded. Had the Giants' taken into consideration Looney's attitude, the fact he was dismissed from the Sooner squad and may have a stage-father situation? Mara considered the question, then replied:

"We have considered those shoulders, those legs and those 224 pounds."

And Tuesday Looney loomed even larger in Giant plans for 1964, the possible answer to the No. 1 problem facing the three-time Eastern Conference champions who have failed to win the National Football League in five tries in the last six years.

"The way I figure things," said Sherman, "a power back will be the Giants' prime requisite for next season."

He elaborated:

"I believe we're going to be all right up front both ways. The linebacker situation is very good, as I see it. So is the secondary. But we need running backs. A power back."

What about the veterans?

"I'm not dismissing Alex Webster. He may be back. And Joe Morrison did a tremendous job for us at fullback after Webster got hurt. But Joe finished the season weighing about 188 pounds. He must have been the lightest fullback in the NFL. I'd like to establish Morrison as a flanker back.

"Certainly, I'm not dismissing Frank Gifford, either. Giff had had a great year, but right now I'm thinking of Morrison as a flanker."

That means there's an opening, and Looney has the credentials. If he has the proper attitude—Sherman says "I hope I don't have to be a psychologist"—Looney could fill the vacancy in a backfield with Y. A. Tittle, Phil King and Morrison.

Looney was one of the nation's top collegians in 1962 when he led the country in punting with a 43.4-yard average, was fifth in rushing with 852 yards gained and paced the Sooners in scoring with 10 touchdowns.

. . . LOYOLA FALLS TO THIRD SPOT

By Associated Press

The jinx that often collides with some college basketball teams after they've settled comfortably into position in The Associated Press' weekly rankings was sidestepped — at least temporarily—by six members of the Top Ten.

Kentucky, rated No. 1 in the latest poll, walloped Loyola of New Orleans, 86-64, and Duke, No. 9, beat Auburn, 84-67, in the opening round of the Sugar Bowl tourney Monday night.

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago whipped Temple, 74-65, in a consolation round of Philadelphia's Quaker City tournament.

Davidson, No. 7, downed Penn, 90-73, in the first round of the Charlotte Invitational tournament. Eighth-ranked Oregon State won the Far West Classic with a 68-58 victory over Brigham Young and Villanova, which climbed into 10th place, captured New York's ECAC Holiday Festival crown by beating Minnesota, 77-73.

Kentucky collected 24 first place votes and 354 points in the latest vote based on games through last Saturday by a special panel of 37 regional selectors. The Wildcats, 101-81 winners over Notre Dame in their only game last week, moved up from second place.

UCLA, which won the Los Angeles Classic, climbed two notches to second while Loyola of the Windy City, the leader a week ago, fell two places following its surprising setback by Georgetown.

WILDCATS BACK ON TOP AFTER 5-YEAR ABSENCE

New York (UPI) — It's just like old times in the bluegrass.

Coach Adolph Rupp's blue ribbon Kentucky Wildcats are back as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team and the Baron owns more prime players than prize cattle.

For the past five years the only thing Rupp has had to brag about has been his livestock, but Tuesday the Wildcats, paced by the highest one-two scoring punch in Kentucky history—Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken—were ranked first in the nation by the United Press International Board of Coaches, the first time since Feb. 9, 1959.

Rupp agreed with his coaching cohorts on the rating board.

"Against the schedule and our record right now I'd have to agree we're the best in the nation," the outspoken Baron said. "This is a smooth team, possibly one of the best ball handling teams we've ever had. They play together. They don't depend on Nash."

The United Press International major college basketball ratings with first-place votes and won-lost records through Saturday, Dec. 28, in parentheses:

Murrell Big 8 Scoring Leader; Carey Second

Kansas City (AP) — Willie Murrell of Kansas State is the Big Eight scoring leader, Jim Davis of Colorado the best rebounder and Jim King of Oklahoma State the most accurate shooter.

The 6-foot-6 Murrell, in front all season, is averaging 21.3 for 11 games. Davis, 6-8, has pulled down 12.2 rebounds a game.

Missouri's Ray Bob Carey is second in scoring at 18.8 and the runner-up in rebounding with an 11.56 average, a shade in front of King's 11.56. Murrell is the No. 4 rebounder at 10.6 and Davis the third best scorer at 17.

King is shooting a phenomenal 63.3 per cent from the field, hitting 50 of 79 shots. He fires mostly from short range in the deliberate Cowboy offense, but is an excellent outside shot.

David City's Icenogle Nets Player Honor

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

The David City Scouts are back on the winning side of the ledger as they head into the 1964 portion of their schedule.

And junior forward Lanny Icenogle is one of the big reasons that the Scouts have rebounded after two opening losses to push their mark to 3-2.

His play in the David City Invitational tourney, won by the Scouts, earns him player of the week honors.

Don Penner's squad posted two straight upsets to take the trophy in the tourney. Seward was a 57-51 victim in the opening round and Wahoo fell, 52-50, in overtime in the title game.

Icenogle gave the Scouts a chance to win in overtime when he dropped in a long fielder with three seconds left to knot the count at 50-50. It was his 27th point of the evening against the Warriors.

Delson Cox, Maywood — Most valuable player in Arapahoe Jaycee tourney with scoring, rebounding. Led Tigers to eighth straight triumph.

Jim Bruening, Wilsonville — Made 18 of 20 free throws, added 11 field goals for 40 points in 67-52 win over Curtis.

Wayne Riecker, Beatrice — Led balanced Beatrice attack in Twin Rivers tourney as Orangemen won fifth straight game. This matches victory output of the previous two seasons.

Mike Draemel, Fremont — Senior guard found the range against Bishop Ryan with 33-point effort that boosted the Tigers to 86-67 win.

Backward Quotes Began When McKay Cited Defense As Key To Bowl Fray

Baltimore (AP)— John McKay, Southern Cal football coach found himself out on a cracked limb the first day of 1963.

"We believe defense will be the key to the game," he said of the Rose Bowl contest with Wisconsin. "And we think we have a very good defense.

USC defeated Wisconsin 42-37.

Before this year in sports ended, McKay has a lot of company on the ground with other personages whose words didn't pan out.

Top Quotes

The Baltimore Evening Sun in its annual publication of quotes that backfired included:

Jan. 8—Green Bay's Paul Hornung on rumors of a betting scandal in the National Football League: "I'm positive no player would be stupid enough to get mixed up with any gamblers."

Hornung and Detroit's Alex Karras were suspended April 17 for betting on league games.

Feb. 1—Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts: "I see no reason why Dick Donovan shouldn't repeat as a 20-game winner."

Donovan won 11.

Skowron Goofs

March 2—Bill Skowron on home run hitting by his Los Angeles Dodgers: "Tommy Davis, Frank Howard, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly should hit more than 20, and I think I will, too."

Skowron hit four and Howard was the only one with more than 20.

April 4—Woody Stephens, trainer of Never Bend: The Kentucky Derby will be a two-horse race. After Candy Spots and my colt, you just have a bunch of horses—none in the same class with these two." Chateaugay beat 'em both.

May 7—Ray Washburn, St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, on his 5-0 record: "With this start, I think I can win 20 games." He was beaten 11-1 that night and one month later was sent to the minors.

'Close Race'

May 11—Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees: "I expect a close race." The Yanks won the pennant by 10½ games.

July 22—Floyd Patterson before his second fight with Sonny Liston: "I won't get knocked out in the first round again."

He did and only four seconds later than in their first championship match.

Aug. 12—Stan Musial on a report he would retire as a player in 1964: "It's too early to talk about next year." The next day he announced he would become an executive for his St. Louis Cardinals.

Some Game

Sept. 21—Navy football Coach Wayne Hardin to West Virginia Coach Gene Corum: "I hope we have the horses to give you a ball game." Navy won 51-7.

Nov. 12—Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi on division title hopes before a game against the Bears: "By no stretch of the imagination will this thing be decided in Chicago." Bears won for second time and went on to become champions.

Dec. 20 — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith before fighting Rubin Carger: "When I beat Rubin, I want to fight for the middleweight title. I'm not saying I'll knock him out, but I'm going after him at the first bell—and bang." Griffith was knocked out in the first round.

Peru Competing In Mo. Tourney

Peru (UPI) — Peru State College will compete in its second holiday tournament Thursday and Friday in Independence, Mo.

Coach Jack McIntire's Peruvians will tangle with National College of Kansas City, Mo., in the Thursday evening curtain raiser. The other participants in the tourney are Kansas Wesleyan, Salina, Kan., and Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa.

Nebraska Newspaper Circulation Total Increase Continues

The 1964 Nebraska Newspaper Directory, just off the press, shows that Nebraska newspaper circulation continues to increase.

The book, published by Nebraska Press Advertising Service, lists an increase of 8,127 subscribers to Nebraska newspapers over a year ago.

There are 253 newspapers listed, same number as a year ago. Total paid circulation is 926,991 as compared with 918,864.

Six newspapers a year ago are missing from the 1964 director. The six, all weeklies, were:

The Albion Boone Companion, a Tuesday paper, was suspended May 14, 1963. Its publisher, Jack Lough, said the town could be given better service by increasing the size of his other newspaper, The News, published on Wednesdays.

Beaver Crossing News publishers, Jim and Mary Kastrau, said that their weekly didn't have required number of subscribers to classify as a legal newspaper and the paper was dropped from the directory, although the paper is still being issued.

Final issue of the Big Springs Enterprise was June 1, 1963. Its last publisher, Herb Fisbeck, said there wasn't enough business to warrant its continuation. The paper had had rough going in recent years. It had been established in 1952 by Ray and Al Evans after the town of 500 had been without a paper for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bierbower suspended their weekly Giltner Gazette the first of 1963. It had been under their ownership and management for over 50 years. At the time of suspension Bierbower announced that poor health had been the determining factor.

The Hershey Enterprise, in its 39th year of publication, suspended with its July 25, 1963 issue. The subscription list was sold to the Sutherland Courier. Enterprise publisher Ray Graham announced he would continue to live in Hershey and devote his time to commercial job printing.

One of the state's oldest weeklies, the Neligh Leader, sold to its competitor, The Neligh News, last May. The paper had been established in 1885 by E. T. and C. J. Best and at the time of sale was published by A. A. Pagel Jr., a grandson of one of the founders. Immediately after the sale, the combined newspaper was re-named the Neligh News & Leader. Loren Fry is the editor. Neligh had been one of the few towns in Nebraska with competing weekly newspapers.

Six newspapers which did not appear in the listings a year ago appear in the 1964 directory. One paper, the Cedar Bluffs Standard, reappears in the listings although the paper has not ceased publication. Its former owner, Howard Knutzen, announced a year ago that the paper would cease publication and the 1963 book went to press without it, but a group of local businessmen purchased the paper and it has continued. The other five new listings, all weeklies, are:

Clay Center Leader — this newspaper was established in February of 1962 by Ostdiek Publications. Its editor is Leland Ostdiek. Its statement of ownership filed in Clay Center last October listed average circulation of 534 for the previous year.

Gretna Guide & News — this is another Ostdiek publication. Mrs. Robert Ostdiek is listed as editor. The paper was established in November of 1961 and its latest statement of ownership lists circulation of 413.

Lincoln Sun Newspapers — three Sun papers are listed for the first time. They were established in November of 1961. Cal Stewart is the publisher. They are Lincoln Capital City Sun, Lincoln Northeast Sun and Lincoln Southeast Sun. The fourth Sun paper has been listed before. It is the Lincolnland Sun which was formerly the Bennet Sun.

This is the first time in years that the number of papers listed has not decreased.

Judge Rules CPPD In-Lieu-Of-Tax Payments Be Based On '57 Formula

Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles has ruled distribution of Consumers Public Power District's in-lieu-of-tax payments should be based on a 1957 formula, as provided in the state constitution.

A 1958 constitutional amendment also provided that power districts pay to the county treasurer a sum equivalent to five per cent of its annual gross revenue from retail sales of electricity within each city or village in the county, less an amount equal to 1957 payments in lieu of taxes.

Judge Boyles, in a declaratory judgment, ruled that the excess after distribution of funds under the 1957 formula should go to the various governmental subdivisions on a mill levy ratio.

Distribution of this amount should be limited to the city or village where the revenue was obtained, the school districts located in such city or village, the county and the state of Nebraska, according to Judge Boyles.

Lancaster County Treasurer C. E. Berg brought the suit against the power district in 1963 seeking a determination as to how the in-lieu-of-tax payments should be distributed for the years 1959, 1960, 1961 and 1962.

Consumers payments totaling nearly $3,000,000 have been held in escrow pending ruling in the matter.

Judge Boyles' ruling stated:

—Payments made by CPPD in 1959, 1960, 1961 and 1962 to the city and county treasurers in the same amounts as payments in lieu-of-taxes in 1957 are proper.

—The payments should not be divided by the city and county on the basis of mill levies.

—Nebraska law which limits these payments paid on 1957 payments in lieu of taxes is valid and effective and CPPD should reduce them by amounts based on properties it ceases to own.

—CPPD is not required to make payments in lieu of taxes on property it acquires after Sept. 28, 1959, when the constitutional amendment becomes effective.

No Powers, Duties

—The County Board of Equalization has no rights, powers, duties with respect to property of CPPD.

—The payments should be distributed by the county treasurer so that each governmental subdivision of the state entitled thereto and the state itself receives a part of such payment equivalent to that part of payment which it received in 1957 in lieu of taxes.

—Sanitary District No. One is not entitled to participate in the distribution.

More Christmas Cards, But Fewer Packages, Mailed

Lincolnites received more greeting cards this Christmas season than ever before, Postmaster Kenneth Lewis reported. However, 45,000 fewer packages were delivered than in 1962.

Despite a slight decline in both outgoing letters and parcel post, the total pieces of mail handled exceeded any previous Christmas season by 394,000.

The bulk of the season's mail was received one to three days later than last year, delaying the delivery of several thousand parcels until after Christmas Day.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

Manila is fairly cool at this time of year. There are times in summer when the air-conditioning can only get the room down to 70 degrees. When room boys come in, they shiver.

Across the bay and over the crushed green paper mountains of Bataan is the island of Harmana Mayor. Undeveloped—and a good deal of it underwater.

Population 180. Twenty-three miles around. A chapel with a drift wood altar. The water of the South China sea is 75 degrees and a trade wind blows like warm silk.

Meet the governor. (Thank you, friends! Thank you!)

☆ ☆ ☆

I am the governor of Hermana Mayor. The owner is Benigno F. Toda, Jr.

He is chairman of the board of Philippine Air Lines.

He presented me with a scroll making me governor. (The dreams of press agents make Walter Mitty look like a backward child.)

It is a handsome scroll on parchment.

After the PAL press agents had it lettered in, they showed it to Ken Macker who publishes the Philippines Herald.

"It looks good but it ought to have an official seal," said Macker.

He gave it to one of the Herald artists and explained that he wanted a seal on it.

The artist brought it back with the seal—a trained seal balancing a ball on his nose.

It was no accident. These Filipino artists have a biting sense of humor. Everybody else laughed like crazy. Except me. But that was the day after I'd had cholera shots.

☆ ☆ ☆

President Macapagal flies to Hermana Mayor on weekends. (It means Big Sister. Watch out, Big Sister. Big Brother is watching you!)

Toda flies up whenever he can.

He is trying to buy Hermana Minor nearby. (Little Sister.)

Toda's little sisters and brothers won't sell.

"I have seven brothers and sisters. When I get six to agree, there is always a seventh who is a hold-out."

☆ ☆ ☆

Of 7000 plus islands in the archipelago, 4000 don't even have names.

You could buy islands and make yourself king if you wanted to.

It's rich land to raise coconuts for copra. (Toda is putting in a grove of 2500 trees.)

What you don't sell dried into copra (for soap, margarine and salad oil) you could sell on the streets of Manila.

All over town you see the big, green fresh nuts. Not like the little brown nuts you see in the stores in America—that's really the inside. But the whole green nut which is not round but elliptical.

They slash the end open and you drink the refreshing milk.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is the land of sunsets. When the sun goes down over the South China Sea, the sky is poured full of painter's oils. Scarlets and royal purples. Silver and gold.

It fills the sky from horizon to horizon and gives you a feeling of being inside a painted bowl.

The blue jeep slides through six inches of mud on the road to Toda's private beach.

☆ ☆ ☆

We get back in the two-engine Bonanza. Race down the grass runway and, at 140 miles per hour, rise gently into the flaming sky.

To the left, a patch of black cloud sprays a torrent of rain into the sea. There's a column of silver with a rainbow in the center.

Below are a fringe of green islands.

"Squatter on that one down there," said Toda.

"How many?"

"Just one," said Mr. Toda.

I imagine he's a governor too. Maybe even a king.

Dr. V. A. Colon's New Title Matches His Experience

The Dean of Nebraska College admission counselors has a new title to match his experience.

Dr. V. A. Colon, director of admissions at Nebraska Wesleyan University for 13 years, now wears the title of Dean of Admissions.

Dr. Colon came to Nebraska Wesleyan in 1948 as associate professor of Spanish.

He recalls that his first venture into admissions work came in the summer of 1950.

"The chancellor called me in that Spring and wanted Pete (Dr. Irvin Peterson) and I to recruit students that summer. We only had 29 applications for the next fall," Dr. Colon recalled.

By September, after three months on the road by the novice admissions men, 263 students were in the fold.

"Later that winter, I was offered the admissions post on a temporary trial basis," he remembers. "And I'm still trying out," he laughs.

Dr. Colon, a native of Puerto Rico, earned his A.B. degree at York College and his M.A. and Ph. D. from the University of Nebraska.

Topsy-Turvy News

Karachi, Pakistan (UPI)—The editor of the English-language Daily Morning News said he was tempted to publish all news upside down in 1964 in view of the world situation. Said Editor Azar Ali Khan in a humorous column, "Since the world is topsy-turvy at any rate . . . this will enable readers to see things in the true perspective."

Lagoon Rescue Hero Identified As Offutt Airman

Omaha (AP)—The man who rescued two park and recreation department employes from the icy waters of Riverview Park lagoon Dec. 16 when the ice gave way under their tractor has been identified.

He is Airman 2C Jack B. Basset of Columbus, Ga., a member of the 544th Reconnaisance Technical wing of Offutt Air Force Base.

The workmen, Richard L. Thompson and Jack Mays, were scraping snow from the ice with a tractor when the ice gave way and plunged the tractor into nine feet of water.

Thompson, who can't swim, stood on the tractor seat until the airman wriggled out on the ice, stretched flat and gave him a hand. Basset then pulled out Mays, who also was standing on the submerged tractor.

Gas Rate Boost For Eight Towns Asked By Western

Approval of a 7.3% rate increase schedule for eight Nebraska communities has been requested by Western Power and Gas Co.

A Lincoln spokesman for the company said the city councils in Aurora, Bradshaw, Exeter, Fairmont, Geneva, Grafton, Hampton and York are being asked for permission to raise in those communities.

The company cited insufficient income to meet rising operating costs as a reason for the request.

The spokesman said Western services the eight communities with gas purchased from the Kansas-Nebraska Gas Co.

Japanese Laborers Protest Work Lack

Osaka, Japan (AP) — Nearly 1,500 disgruntled, restless laborers clashed with 250 riot police in Kamagasaki, a slum district in Osaka, western Japan, on this New Year's Eve.

Police said two laborers were injured, one seriously, and eight were arrested. The laborers were protesting against the lack of work during the five-day year-end holidays.

Topsy-Turvy News

Karachi, Pakistan (UPI)—The editor of the English-language Daily Morning News said he was tempted to publish all news upside down in 1964 in view of the world situation. Said Editor Azar Ali Khan in a humorous column, "Since the world is topsy-turvy at any rate . . . this will enable readers to see things in the true perspective."

Lagoon Rescue Hero Identified As Offutt Airman

Omaha (AP)—The man who rescued two park and recreation department employes from the icy waters of Riverview Park lagoon Dec. 16 when the ice gave way under their tractor has been identified.

He is Airman 2C Jack B. Basset of Columbus, Ga., a member of the 544th Reconnaisance Technical wing of Offutt Air Force Base.

The workmen, Richard L. Thompson and Jack Mays, were scraping snow from the ice with a tractor when the ice gave way and plunged the tractor into nine feet of water.

Thompson, who can't swim, stood on the tractor seat until the airman wriggled out on the ice, stretched flat and gave him a hand. Basset then pulled out Mays, who also was standing on the submerged tractor.

Gas Rate Boost For Eight Towns Asked By Western

Approval of a 7.3% rate increase schedule for eight Nebraska communities has been requested by Western Power and Gas Co.

A Lincoln spokesman for the company said the city councils in Aurora, Bradshaw, Exeter, Fairmont, Geneva, Grafton, Hampton and York are being asked for permission to raise in those communities.

The company cited insufficient income to meet rising operating costs as a reason for the request.

The spokesman said Western services the eight communities with gas purchased from the Kansas-Nebraska Gas Co.

Japanese Laborers Protest Work Lack

Osaka, Japan (AP) — Nearly 1,500 disgruntled, restless laborers clashed with 250 riot police in Kamagasaki, a slum district in Osaka, western Japan, on this New Year's Eve.

Police said two laborers were injured, one seriously, and eight were arrested. The laborers were protesting against the lack of work during the five-day year-end holidays

Stocks Rally Vigorously In Active Trade

New York (AP) —Wall Street celebrated New Year's Eve with a vigorous stock market rally Tuesday. Volume swelled to 6.73 million shares.

Strong reinvestment demand overcame the jumble of year-end tax-loss selling, profit-taking and switching which has created cross currents in the markets of recent weeks.

Brokers said the financial community got a head start on 1964 by converting much of the cash accumulated recently into fresh investments.

The popular market averages made decisive gains. This is noteworthy on the last day of the year when usually the welter of conflicting purchases and sales leave a thin gain at best.

Volume compared with 4.95 million shares Monday and was the largest since Nov. 26 when 9.23 million shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.05 to 762.95—closing somewhat below its peak which was reached at mid-session.

So heavy were transactions on the New York Stock Exchange that the ticker tape was running 12 minutes late when the final bell sounded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.6 to 285.5 with industrials up 1.5, rails up 1.5 and utilities up .9.

It was the sharpest gain since Dec. 5 when the average rose 1.9.

An estimated $2.3 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the exchange, based on the rise in the AP average.

Of 1,353 issues traded, 738 rose and 368 fell. Highs for the year totaled 44 and lows 12.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks advanced, 2 declined and 3 were unchanged.

Due to some concentrated buying, Parke, Davis was the most active stock, up ⅝ at 31¾ on 134,800 shares.

IBM reached a high for the year of 509½, closing at 507 for a net gain of 8.

New highs were also made by such stocks as Corning Glass, up 8; Pennzoil, up 3¾, and Dymo Industries, up 3⅜.

Airlines were strong from the start and remained mostly higher by the close.

Rails, coppers, electrical equipments, tobaccos and drugs were among the stronger groups.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were irregularly higher. U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Grain Futures Are Steady In Dull Trade

Chicago (AP) — With only a few exceptions, all grain futures contracts finished within small fractions of previous closes Tuesday after generally slow and dull transactions on the Board of Trade.

Brokers said the activity was limited largely to evening up commitments for the year-end although some business was noted in corn on export accounts.

Soybeans closed mostly narrowly mixed, wheat slightly firm and other grains a bit easier. The distant November soybean delivery held the broadest gain, up about a cent while July rye showed the biggest loss, down a cent.

At the close, soybeans were ¼ cent a bushel lower to 1¼ higher, January $2.81¼-⅜; wheat ⅛-⅜ higher, March $2.19½-⅝; corn ¼-½ lower, March $1.20⅛-20; oats ⅛-⅜ lower, March 70¾ cents; rye ⅛-1 cent lower, March $1.49¾-½.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Sound Economies May Aid Political Incumbents' Plans

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

The likelihood that high level economic activity will continue in 1964 in both the United States and the United Kingdom constitutes a favorable factor in the efforts of political incumbents in both nations to retain high office.

Rukeyser

As a realist, however, certainly President Lyndon B. Johnson does not expect the honeymoon, to persist indefinitely. The initial widespread approval was to the institution of political succession, rather than to an individual personality. During the moratorium of politics as usual in the month following President Kennedy's assassination, inherent circumstances benefitted the new chief executive, for whom the obvious optimum political role was to strive to create an image of competence in office.

As time goes on, the transitional bull market in the Johnson stock will be subject to testing and reexamination. At the moment of national tragedy, it was widely assumed that the untoward and cold blooded murder of former President Kennedy had knocked Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, out of the box. This superficial conclusion was based on the fact that he would no longer have the windfall advantage of capitalizing on prejudice by some Southerners toward Kennedy based on his Civil Rights stance. But such a gain on Goldwater's part, if realized, would have been ignoble and far from evidence of his fitness for the highest office in the land.

Now, if Goldwater should choose to seek the Republican nomination, his ability to capture Southern electoral votes will hinge on whether his brand of "conservatism" fits the Dixie mood better than that of President Johnson.

While a Goldwater victory for invalid reasons in the South might indeed be tempered, it is by no means clear that there will not be offsetting potential competitive gains in the populous Northeast where the Kennedy advocacy of change was more clearcut in the minds and emotions of voters than that of his successor in the White House.

The surest evidence of this is the calculated and studied effort of Johnson to establish his historic credentials as a New Dealer. With his record of "conservatism" toward oil and gas trades and toward business in general, the new President has been seeking to improve his image as a human social reformer.

If Goldwater comes from the wrong part of the country, this liability has been mitigated by the fact that President Johnson also does.

In spite of the techniques which speech writers are destined to employ, the campaign, culminating in November, is less likely than appeared prior to November 22nd to turn on differences of ideology. Business and Wall Street, despite histrionics, are less likely to feel that they are destined to become targets. Both Johnson and Goldwater have met payrolls.

Tempered Counsel

In retrospect, President Kennedy too rose above his ideological advisers and tempered their counsel with his own balanced judgment. By way of specific illustration, the late President in his tax message last January threw Galbraith doctrine out of the window. John K. Galbraith, in his tome "The Affluent Society," put in a pitch for expanding the "public (or governmental) sector" as against the "private (or individual free choice) sector."

The late President, in urging reduction of tax rates, argued that such revision would stimulate private consumption and business spending. And President Johnson is pushing this line even harder in arguing against excessive federal expenditures.

In so doing, President Johnson has been stepping on the toes of those who regard themselves as Keynesians and devout followers of Galbraith. Thus, Arthur Banavie, Princeton economist, in a letter to the New York Times, argues that the "implication (by President Johnson) that more restraint in government spending is necessary just because of the proposed tax cut is absurd economics."

The professor adds: "The sole purpose of the tax cut is to stimulate demand which will generate increased output, income and employment. If government demand (spending) is reduced just to make room for the tax cut, the total level of demand will not be pushed up. And the only purpose of the tax cut will have been thwarted."

The foregoing, in nice academic language, is a plea for "economic planning" through manipulation. The professor discounts the beneficial effect on confidence of an improved and more equitable fiscal system. He takes the mechanical "quantity theory of money" position that people are automatons who will respond without judgment to manipulative techniques.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Stocks Rally Vigorously In Active Trade

New York (AP) —Wall Street celebrated New Year's Eve with a vigorous stock market rally Tuesday. Volume swelled to 6.73 million shares.

Strong reinvestment demand overcame the jumble of year-end tax-loss selling, profit-taking and switching which has created cross currents in the markets of recent weeks.

Brokers said the financial community got a head start on 1964 by converting much of the cash accumulated recently into fresh investments.

The popular market averages made decisive gains. This is noteworthy on the last day of the year when usually the welter of conflicting purchases and sales leave a thin gain at best.

Volume compared with 4.95 million shares Monday and was the largest since Nov. 26 when 9.23 million shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.05 to 762.95—closing somewhat below its peak which was reached at mid session.

So heavy were transactions on the New York Stock Exchange that the ticker tape was running 12 minutes late when the final bell sounded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.6 to 283.5 with industrials up 1.5, rails up 1.5 and utilities up .9.

It was the sharpest gain since Dec. 5 when the average rose 1.9.

An estimated $2.3 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the exchange, based on the rise in the AP average.

Of 1,353 issues traded, 738 rose and 368 fell. Highs for the year totaled 31 and lows 12.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks advanced, 2 declined and 3 were unchanged.

Due to some concentrated buying, Parke, Davis was the most active stock, up ¾ at 31⅞ on 134,800 shares.

IBM reached a high for the year of 509½, closing at 507 for a net gain of 8.

New highs were also made by such stocks as Corning Glass, up 8; Pennzoil, up 3¼, and Dymo Industries, up 3⅞.

Airlines were strong from the start and remained mostly higher by the close.

Rails, coppers, electrical equipments, tobaccos and drugs were among the stronger groups.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were irregularly higher. U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Grain Futures Are Steady In Dull Trade

Chicago (AP) — With only a few exceptions, all grain futures contracts finished within small fractions of previous closes Tuesday after generally slow and dull transactions on the Board of Trade.

Brokers said the activity was limited largely to evening up commitments for the year-end although some business was noted in corn on export accounts.

Soybeans closed mostly narrowly mixed, wheat slightly firm and other grains a bit easier. The distant November soybean delivery held the broadest gain, up about a cent while July rye showed the biggest loss, down a cent.

At the close, soybeans were ¼ cent a bushel lower to 1¼ higher, January $2.81¼-⅜; wheat ⅛-½ higher, March $2.19⅛-¼; corn ⅛-½ lower, March $1.20⅛-20; oats ⅛-⅜ lower, March 70¾ cents; rye ⅛-1 cent lower, March $1.49¼-½.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Sound Economies May Aid Political Incumbents' Plans

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

The likelihood that high level economic activity will continue in 1964 in both the United States and the United Kingdom constitutes a favorable factor in the efforts of political incumbents in both nations to retain high office.

Rukeyser

As a realist, however, certainly President Lyndon B. Johnson does not expect the honeymoon, to persist indefinitely. The initial widespread approval was to the institution of political succession, rather than to an individual personality. During the moratorium of politics as usual in the month following President Kennedy's assassination, inherent circumstances benefitted the new chief executive, for whom the obvious optimum political role was to strive to create an image of competence in office.

As time goes on, the transitional bull market in the Johnson stock will be subject to testing and reexamination. At the moment of national tragedy, it was widely assumed that the untoward and cold blooded murder of former President Kennedy had knocked Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, out of the box. This superficial conclusion was based on the fact that he would no longer have the windfall advantage of capitalizing on prejudice by some Southerners toward Kennedy based on his Civil Rights stance. But such a gain on Goldwater's part, if realized, would have been ignoble and far from evidence of his fitness for the highest office in the land.

Now, if Goldwater should choose to seek the Republican nomination, his ability to capture Southern electoral votes will hinge on whether his brand of "conservatism" fits the Dixie mood better than that of President Johnson.

While a Goldwater victory for invalid reasons in the South might indeed be tempered, it is by no means clear that there will not be offsetting potential competitive gains in the populous Northeast where the Kennedy advocacy of change was more clearcut in the minds and emotions of voters than that of his successor in the White House.

The surest evidence of this is the calculated and studied effort of Johnson to establish his historic credentials as a New Dealer. With his record of "conservatism" toward oil and gas trades and toward business in general, the new President has been seeking to improve his image as a human social reformer.

If Goldwater comes from the wrong part of the country, this liability has been mitigated by the fact that President Johnson also does.

In spite of the techniques which speech writers are destined to employ, the campaign, culminating in November, is less likely than appeared prior to November 22nd to turn on differences of ideology. Business and Wall Street, despite histrionics, are less likely to feel that they are destined to become targets. Both Johnson and Goldwater have met payrolls.

Tempered Counsel

In retrospect, President Kennedy too rose above his ideological advisers and tempered their counsel with his own balanced judgment. By way of specific illustration, the late President in his tax message last January threw Galbraith doctrine out of the window. John K. Galbraith, in his tome "The Affluent Society," put in a pitch for expanding the "public (or governmental) sector" as against the "private (or individual free choice) sector."

The late President, in urging reduction of tax rates, argued that such revision would stimulate private consumption and business spending. And President Johnson is pushing this line even harder in arguing against excessive federal expenditures.

In so doing, President Johnson has been stepping on the toes of those who regard themselves as Keynesians and devout followers of Galbraith. Thus, Arthur Banavie, Princeton economist, in a letter to the New York Times, argues that the "implication (by President Johnson) that more restraint in government spending is necessary just because of the proposed tax cut is absurd economics."

The professor adds: "The sole purpose of the tax cut is to stimulate demand which will generate increased output, income and employment. If government demand (spending) is reduced just to make room for the tax cut, the total level of demand will not be pushed up. And the only purpose of the tax cut will have been thwarted."

The foregoing, in nice academic language, is a plea for "economic planning" through manipulation. The professor discounts the beneficial effect on confidence of an improved and more equitable fiscal system. He takes the mechanical "quantity theory of money" position that people are automatons who will respond without judgment to manipulative techniques.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)
